Failure of Superior Company to Pay Employes Ends in Riot.

MEN ARE SHOT DOWN

SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 28.—Two thousand drink-crazed foreigners, discharged employes of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, have precipitated a reign of terror in the Canadian Soo. Tonight a single company of Canadian militia holds the offices of the company against the infuriated men. The situation is most grave.

No reinforcements have reached the soldiers and the mob, which grows hourly is expected to make another attack upon the handful of militia and the demoralized police force. Thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been done to the buildings of the company.

An assault upon the office building early this afternoon, before the arrival of the troops, was successful and a mob of frenzied rioters secured possession of the ground floor. Everything movable that came in their path was demolished. Clambering over the wreckage they made a wild rush for the stairway leading to the second floor, but the office force, which was caught like rats in a trap, secured revolvers and with their backs against the closed doors, inch by inch forced the rioters from the stairway.

Women Started the Trouble.

The riot was the result of a promise to pay all the men this morning, although the officials who made this foolish promise have admitted right along they had no knowledge where the money was coming from to satisfy the men. An immense throng of women gathered early this morning to get tickets cashed. Upon being told there was no money they grew ugly. A big rock crashed through one of the windows. It was soon followed by a cloud of missiles of all descriptions, which demolished every window in the building and drove the officials outside to places of shelter.

Policemen were summoned and they arrived just as a wild rush upon one of the doors was made. It was repulsed only after several policemen were seriously injured and a number of the rioters badly hurt, two being shot down by the policemen. The news of the shooting of the rioters only served to increase the throng and these men boldly went into the building, and after breaking into kindling everything portable, they were repulsed.

Little Regard for Militia.

The arrival of the troops on the grounds armed with ball cartridges about 2 o'clock served to restore some semblance of order. The rioters then contented themselves with throwing stones at the building and hurling invectives at the soldiers, who established a "dead line," and prevented any approach toward the building by any of the rioters. The greatest number of the mob are of ignorant italians, Finns, Norwegians and Frenchmen, the former perhaps the hardest of all to handle.

They have been drinking more or less, although the bars this afternoon finally obeyed the order to close up. The mob is one that cannot be reasoned with, and the man they seem most anxious to get at is Mr. Coyne, the assistant manager, who in the absence of Mr. Shields, is in charge of the work. Mr. Coyne has discreetly kept out of sight, all day.

Late this afternoon the leaders of the mob held a conference and demanded that the company house the men in their hotel and boarding house and feed them until the money for their wages is forthcoming. In order to appease the crowd this demand was granted, and the men have taken possession of the white house, a large boarding house operated by the company. Provisions are being sent there to feed them.

The men held a monster mass meeting at this place tonight. As their leaders made the most inflammable sort of speeches, grave fears are entertained for the outcome.

Another Outbreak Feared.

An attempt is being made to put the street car system in the Canadian Soo, which suspended operation this morning after an attack had been made upon it, into operation again. Two cars were sent out late this afternoon, heavily guarded.

Inasmuch as most of the rioters were not on the streets at the time this trial was made, no disorder occurred. It is estimated that there are 2,000 men in the Soo tonight, and these are re-enforced by all the idle rabble in town. A train carrying 400 more workmen is expected to arrive on the Algoma Central tonight.

The local police force is being strengthened by the addition of all the deputies who can be found, each man being given a badge and a revolver and ordered to use the latter whenever necessary. Considerable feeling has been aroused over the shooting of two Frenchmen by the police during the trouble this morning. The rioters claim that the officers fired their revolvers when it was unnecessary. Neither of the men is fatally hurt, however.

The mob threatens an attack upon police headquarters with a view of effecting the release of all the men who have been arrested. Both this building and that occupied by the fire department is guarded against attack.

The speeches of the leaders had little effect upon the men at the meeting tonight and an attempt was made to allay

JURY IGNORANT OF MURDERERS

Coroner's Inquest in the Ferguson Case Without a Clue.

PRISONERS NOT HELD

Francis and Huston, Accused of the Crime, Established Their Innocence.

MUCH TESTIMONY IS TAKEN

[From a Staff Correspondent.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, Pa., Sept. 28.—Before Frank Francis had been closely questioned this afternoon before the coroner's jury in West Middletown, in Francis' hotel, five minutes, his innocence of the crime of murdering Samuel T. Ferguson, the Wabash contractor, and making way with $5,600, had been practically established. In accordance with the testimony the jury retired at 5:30 and a half hour later rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jury, sworn to find out how and after what manner Samuel T. Ferguson came to his death, find that he came to his death from concussion of the brain caused from an explosion of dynamite on the Patterson Mills road at the foot of Seminary hill, on the afternoon of Friday, September 25, 1903, which was exploded by some person or persons unknown to the jury, and we recommend that the proper authorities make every possible effort to capture the perpetrators of the crime."

Both Francis and Joseph Huston, who have been suspected of the deed and been in the custody of Sheriff Carothers since Friday night, although practically absolved by the coroner's jury, will remain prisoners in the county jail here until General Manager Norton of the Ferguson Contracting Company withdraws information against them made on Saturday, charging them with complicity in the murder.

Ferguson Not Afraid.

At the inquest an effort was made to show that Francis and Huston were feared by S. T. Ferguson; that Francis returned to the camp by a route other than the one outlined by him when arrested; that he used information gathered while in the previous employ of the company to steal the money, and that instead of being asleep under a tree at the time of the murder they were actively engaged or assisting in the exploding of the dynamite mine under the road.

A number of witnesses were called, some of whom entertained the suspicion that the guilty men had been apprehended and their testimony was given accordingly. Francis, however, made a straightforward statement that was at once plausible and acceptable.

Huston, who had not been allowed to see Francis since being arrested, told a story identical with that of Francis. Both were absolutely sure as to the most trifling details. They appeared calm. Francis testified as follows:

"When did you first learn of the crime?"

"When I got back to camp from the stable boss."

"Was Huston with you at the time?"

"Yes."

Francis an Old Employe.

The witness then detailed his connection with the Ferguson Company. He had been in its employ over a year ago, left and returned last spring. He remained until August 15 when he left for West Virginia. The coroner asked him who left with him at that time. He replied Alec Vasnier, a Pole. The witness then told of the movements of himself and the Pole up until six weeks ago when he sought work in Fairmont. He said that he and Huston left Fairmont last Tuesday, came to Wheeling the following day, and by street cars and walking reached Washington Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock, the day before the explosion.

Having been brought to this point the questioning became very close. Francis, however, related everything in connection with their trip from Washington to Middletown and their arrival at Camp Ferguson the morning of the crime. Not once did he contradict himself.

John Kelley was called and testified that he had met Francis and Huston on the road. Other people had also met them. As to the movements of the two men between the hours of noon and 6 o'clock on the day of the tragedy the examination was extremely close. The men had left camp about 1 o'clock, purchased a keg of beer and drunk some of it after which they fell asleep. The Austrian woman from whom the purchase was made was produced. The keg was found afterward half filled.

Huston Tells Same Story.

Huston followed Francis and told a similar story. Once or twice the coroner attempted to catch him by direct questioning concerning the camps west of the Ferguson work, but Huston was not caught. He told why and when he left Fairmont and described his journey with Francis in about the same way as Francis did. Both were recalled.

The first witness was Dr. Bemis who attended Ferguson. He pronounced death as due to concussion of the brain which tallies with the account given in The Gazette. The man was struck by a stone or some thing in the forehead. A deposition was read, signed by M. N. Hemphill R. D. Nelson, Mrs. Ferguson and daughter showing that the man found in the road was Ferguson.

Dwight Johnston, timekeeper, who was the first to reach the scene of the accident, followed. His story was exactly the same as that exclusively told in The Gazette of the day following the crime. He was riding behind Ferguson and Martin and reached the place not more than three minutes after the blast. Some emphasis was laid on the fact that from the distance of the battery from the road a man could not have come down the incline, got the satchel and escaped. The

TUMBLING PRICES DEEPEN GLOOM IN STOCK MARKET

Air Charged With Reports of Impending Failures Which Are Promptly Denied by Heads of Important Banking Houses.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.

Wall street had another harrowing time on the stock exchange today. There was no relaxation in the frenzied desire to sell securities. Prices continued to decline to levels which had never been reached before in some instances, while in others records for years past had to be searched before similar low prices could be found.

The liquidation continued throughout the entire session. At the close the market was staggering under the blow given by the heavy selling of Pennsylvania, which carried the price down to the lowest in several years. At the opening a fierce drive was made against the electric traction shares, which sent prices reeling throughout the entire list. This in turn was followed by further pronounced weakness in United States Steel shares, in which low records were made. The common sold at 15, the preferred at 50¾, and the new 5 per cent bonds at 67¾. The tremendous losses sustained by certain specialties sent cold chills through the entire financial community. In General Electric, Westinghouse Manufacturing and some of the other high priced stocks there was losses extending from 4 to 11 points.

No failures were announced, but the air was charged with reports affecting the credit of many banking houses and brokerage firms. A diligent canvass of the banking community failed to reveal any fundamental weakness. Assurances to this effect failed to stimulate confidence. Wall street refused to believe that the sapping of credit which has been in process for months had not left its imprint. It was the general impression that there was something wrong, and that it would have to be corrected before any return of confidence was obtained. "It's big game," ran the current report, "and no small fry would have precipitated such a market as this."

In London the situation was reported almost as dark as it was in New York. Consols sold down to the lowest price in two generations, with practically no buying power noticeable. There was no market for American shares in London and such orders as were sent here for execution were mainly on the selling side. There was, of course, some speculative buying on account of the low prices established in New York, but these orders were in the minority.

In Wall street gloom seemed to have settled everywhere, and many bankers declared that expression of confidence at this time would be ill advised inasmuch as a public statement would be construed as an admission of weakness.

"There is but little to say," said one of the most prominent bankers in the city. "Any statement intended to reassure Wall street would be construed by the bear party into something entirely different from what was intended. It is best, under the circumstances, to keep silent."

During the day little attention was paid to reports of fair weather in the west, which were so important factors earlier in the season. It was noticed that the price of cotton advanced sharply and that wheat held firm and increases in railroad earnings passed unnoticed. FRANK A. PARKER.

WATSON THANKED FOR POWERFUL ARGUMENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
LONDON, Sept. 28.—The opening of the third week of the sessions of the Alaskan boundary commission found D. T. Watson, of American counsel, continuing his presentation of the American case. He concluded at 12:25 p. m., after speaking since Wednesday afternoon. Lord Chief Justice Alverstone expressed the appreciation of the commissioners, saying:

"Thank you for your very powerful argument." Then at a nod from the lord chief justice, Christopher Robinson, K. C., rose and commenced his speech in behalf of the Canadian claims.

Mr. Watson left the hall looking greatly fatigued after his prolonged effort.

Some interest was aroused by Lord Alverstone asking Mr. Robinson if he could prove that the coast mentioned in article seven referred exclusively to the Listere (or strip which Russia was to obtain by the treaty). Lord Alverstone confessed that the point "troubled" him and said that if Mr. Robinson could adduce a convincing argument on that point he would greatly strengthen the Canadian case. Mr. Robinson promised to deal with the matter at a later stage.

After luncheon, Mr. Robinson became so fatigued that he nearly fainted and stimulants had to be administered to him. His failing voice and growing pallor prompted Lord Alverstone to adjourn the session earlier than ever.

PREMIER'S REPLY DON'T SATISFY BULGARIANS

Representatives of 15,000 Ask Him What He Will Do to Help Macedonia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
SOFIA, BULGARIA, Sept. 28.—The situation here is much brighter today and the war clouds appear to have lifted. The porte's assurance that the 82 battalions recently ordered to proceed from Monastir to Adrianople will not be moved has lessened the apprehension of the Bulgarian government. Further satisfaction is derived from the fact that M. Natchovitch is going to Constantinople in the capacity of Bulgarian diplomatic agent. He conducted the negotiations with the porte last June and after their failure returned to Sofia.

The committee appointed for the purpose at the time of yesterday's demonstration of 15,000 persons in this city this afternoon waited on Premier Petrof and asked him if the government intended to do anything to help the Macedonians. M. Petrof replied that the ministry was acting in what it conceived to be the best interests of Bulgaria and would continue the same policy. The spokesman of the committee told the premier that his reply would not be satisfactory to the people and the committee thereupon withdrew.

It is estimated that 50,000 villagers of the vilayet of Monastir are now refugees in the mountains and mostly in a terribly destitute condition.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE BACK AT HIS DESK

Roosevelt Family Returns to the White House After 13 Weeks Vacation.

MITCHELL VISIT IS TODAY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock President Roosevelt will be at his desk in the executive offices of the White House after an absence of 13 weeks. With his family he arrived at 4 o'clock this afternoon from Oyster Bay, their special train getting in 10 minutes ahead of time. At the station they were greeted by Postmaster General Payne, Secretary Wilson and Col. Symons, major domo of the White House. As the president alighted he walked up to the engine and shook hands with the engineer and fireman and thanked them for a safe and pleasant journey.

A large crowd was present to greet the president. As they drove up Pennsylvania avenue the president was obliged to respond to greetings all along the way and he seemed pleased to get back to the capital. At the White House all the employes were gathered on the front portico to greet the president and his family. The children broke for the playrooms in the basement.

The first person to greet the family was the surgeon general of the navy, Dr. P. M. Rixey. The president greeted him with a "Hello, Rixey, we are glad to see you, but we don't need a doctor."

Tomorrow the president will have as guest at luncheon, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers. It is believed that the Miller case and the attack on the the president by the Central Labor union will be the principal topic of discussion. It will furnish an excellent opportunity for a thorough understanding between the president and the most influential labor leader in the country.

There is reason to believe that Mr. Mitchell, acting for the committee of two appointed by the executive council of the Federation at its recent session to consider the Miller case, will discuss it with the president and make a report whenever the committee wishes.

The attitude of the Central Labor union toward President Roosevelt came up for discussion at the meeting of that body tonight, in connection with the case of W. A. Miller, the assistant foreman in the bindery of the government printing office, in which the union has taken an acute interest. After the meeting it was stated by one of the officers that the union felt its action in the Miller case had been misrepresented. It was said that the union was not waging a political campaign against the president, but that its members thought they had the right to petition, and to request other labor organizations to petition, the president to rescind his action in the Miller case. ## SCHWAB THINKS MARKET WILL REGAIN STRENGTH

ALTOONA, PA., Sept. 28.—(8 o'clock extra.)—Charles M. Schwab, ex-president of the United States Steel Corporation, is rapidly recuperating at his country home at Loretto. In reply to questions as to his health Mr. Schwab said today: "I am feeling right well again. The mountain air agrees with me." Asked about the recent slump in steel stocks he said: "I am resting and have little concern, but that the market will in a short while regain its normal strength. I prefer to talk no further of business."

GAME WAS CLEVER

Defeated Amendent to Substitute Hazen for Mechanical Filtration Expert.

GOLD BRICK FOR REFORM

Stevenson and Followers Violate Chief Plank of Platform.

EVIDENCE OF DEAL

Citizens Reformers Accused of Making Money on Sale of Public Property.

BIDS ON COUNCIL FLOOR

Neat Gold Brick Game Was Worked in Select

The Citizens managers and the select council combine handed W. H. Stevenson and his "orphan" contingent a gold brick, holding up the ordinance levying a linear tax upon the property of corporations in the finance committee of the select council.

The Citizens leaders made a show of keeping faith by moving to recall the ordinance when such a motion was not in order. They adjourned the meeting, however, before a motion to recall the ordinance could again be made.

The Citizens and the combine also defeated an amendment to substitute the name of Allen Hazen for that of Col. Alexander M. Miller, a mechanical advocate, as one of the three experts to pass upon the estimates of Director E. M. Bigelow. The Brown resolution, which empowers the experts to only "verify" the estimates, was passed in its original form.

Select council passed the ordinance authorizing the issue of $220,000 bonds to meet the deficiency in the bureau of health.

A Sensational Session of Common Council

W. H. Stevenson and his fellow "orphans" in common council last night violated one of the chief planks of their platform, voting for the blanket clause of Director E. M. Bigelow's ordinance giving the head of the public works department power to appoint as many laborers and artisans as he wishes.

Common council raised salaries and restored positions abolished by the Citizens party in salary revision committee last February.

Sensation was created by Citizens members bidding against each other for a piece of public property and the Republican members accusing the Citizens of grafting.

The Republican members prevented the final passage of the Bigelow blanket ordinance under a suspension of the rules. Stevenson, after voting for the blanket clause reversed his vote on the last reading.

Now ordinance, framed by Director Bigelow, introduced, giving the electrical companies five more years to remove their poles and overhead wires from all the streets of the city.

By casting their votes in favor of the blanket clause of Director E. M. Bigelow's ordinance for the public works department last night the "orphan" members of common council, headed by W. H. Stevenson, violated one of the chief pledges of the platform to which they solemnly bound themselves in an address to the public a few weeks ago. In their platform of September 8, Councilman Stevenson and his followers demanded among other things:

"The withdrawal of what is known as the blanket ordinance which proposes to take from councils the right to limit the number of employes."

The "orphans'" platform was signed by W. H. Stevenson, C. S. Crawford, W. C. Reitz, Jacob Soffel, Charles C. Schad, Frederick Beehner, J. P. Shaw and John P. Baldauf, all of whom last night forgot the obligation they had assumed voluntarily and voted against an amendment striking out the blanket feature of the ordinance, which gives the director of public works power to employ as many laborers and artisans as he may wish.

W. B. Wolfe, an "orphan," said he could not consistently vote for the blanket clause after signing this platform, and he evaded the issue by not voting at all. Gebhardt Sahner, another "orphan," was not present last night. Beehner, who was among the first on the roll-call, first voted against the blanket clause, but when he found his colleagues had deserted their platform he followed suit and changed his vote.

W. H. Stevenson, the leader of the "orphans," made a peculiar move. After having voted for the blanket clause and approving the previous amendments that had been made to the ordinance, he voted against the ordinance when a motion was made to pass it finally under a suspension of the rules.

The action of Stevenson and his fellow "orphans" was the more remarkable last night, in view of the manner in which he had been tricked by the Citizens party managers and the combine in select council in the afternoon. The Bigelow leaders in the upper branch and the leaders of the combine held up his linear tax ordinance, and Stevenson had declared his intention of "getting even" last night. Apparently he had reconsidered this threat last night when he entered the common council chamber, for instead of helping to defeat the blanket feature of the Bigelow ordinance he kept faith with the machine and helped to pass it.

In discussing the action of select council, Mr. Stevenson last night made meek protest. He smiled when asked if he had received a "gold brick," and said: "If the Citizens party wants to prove that it is sincere and controls select council, it will abolish every one of those ruinp committees without further delay. The Citizens party has arrived at the turn of the roads, where the sign-post reads 'victory or defeat.'"

The Citizens managers and the select council combine worked a very shrewd game yesterday afternoon to throw dust in the eyes of the "orphan" contingent, which is clamoring for the passage of the linear tax measure. Common Councilman W. H. Stevenson, who holds a co-partnership with Controller John B. Larkin as the head of the "orphans," was a spectator of the proceedings wherein he was handed a lovely gold-brick by the representatives of the Bigelow-Hays-Verner machine. Murry A. Verner was also a spectator. Thomas S. Bigelow visited his brother, Director E. M. Bigelow just before the meeting of select council had lieutenants were present at the conference of the Bigelow brothers to carry orders to the select councilmen.

Councilman Robert H. Douglas, of the Twenty-first ward, took a prominent part in the matter of handing the gold brick to Stevenson. The game started when the linear tax ordinance, the Brown filtration resolution and a number of other measures were referred to the finance committee of the select council of which Samuel J. Wainwright, of the Eighteenth ward, is chairman.

Filtration Bill Not Changed.

Chairman Wainwright asked permission for the committee to sit during the session of council. This was unanimously granted and the committee retired to the city clerk's office. At the meeting of the finance committee there were present Wainwright, Hackney, Zahniser, Piatt and Stevenson. The filtration resolution, introduced in select council by Thomas M. Brown, was affirmatively recommended back to select council. Chairman Wainwright suggested that the ordinance be amended to give the committee larger powers and Zahniser offered an amendment of this kind, but the amendment was not even voted on. Chairman Wainwright putting the motion to approve the ordinance which was done unanimously.

Then the linear tax ordinance came up

A sensation was created in common council last night by prominent Citizens members, including the leader of the "orphans," bidding against each other for a piece of public property located in the Fourteenth ward, which has been advertised for sale. The property in question is a lot with a frontage of 20 feet and a depth of 100 feet in Second avenues, formerly occupied by the old Oakland police station.

W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the joint committee, at a former meeting had presented an offer of $2,500 for the property from the Jones & Laughlin Company. Stevenson at that time claimed that the property was practically worthless and that a higher price could not be obtained. His colleague from the Fourteenth ward, Chris Beckert, disputed this assertion and claimed that the price mentioned was not one-half the value of the property.

Beckert said he could find a purchaser who would pay more money for it. The ordinance was, therefore, held over at the time and was called up again last night by W. H. Brand.

Bidding Became Spirited.

Several surprises then occurred. Beckert repeated that the city could get more money for the property and declared he could produce a buyer himself who would give $7,000 more than offered by Jones & Laughlin. Mr. Stevenson demanded to know who Beckert's bidder was and the latter finally said:

"Councilman John Lauler of the Fourteenth ward."

Lauler was present and confirmed what Beckert had said. He said he would give the city today a certified check for $3,500 for the property.

When Lauler had made this statement Stevenson caused another surprise by pulling from his pocket another bid from the Jones & Laughlin Company, this time offering $3,000.

"Jones & Laughlin did not believe the property was worth more than $3,000," said Mr. Stevenson, "because the property is hemmed in on all sides by the firm's plant, but they are anxious to get it and have authorized me to pay $5,000 if necessary."

"Since it became known that Jones & Laughlin want this property members of this council suddenly appear anxious to buy. I don't believe the property will bring a higher price unless it is bought by some person to 'pinch' Jones & Laughlin."

Seemed to Be Something Doing.

Joseph G. Armstrong made a witty speech concerning the rival offers by Stevenson and Lauler. "It seems that there is something doing and that we have not all been let in on this," he said.

J. K. Wymard, a Citizens member from the Twenty-first ward, run up the price still higher, when he said he was authorized by another party to offer more than $5,000 for the property. He said he would give council the name of the prospective purchaser if desired, but this was not asked.

W. H. Brand remarked that if the bids increased "there might be enough money to go all around."

President Crawford added to the merriment by calling out: "Any more bids."

Mr. Beckert moved that the ordinance providing for the sale of the property to Jones & Laughlin go back to the finance committee and that the property be advertised again. After some debate this motion prevailed. Beckert charged that he had not been properly advertised before and that no person knew that it was for sale.

Salaries Given a Boost.

The ordinance revising the salaries of the public safety department was then taken up and changes made which increase the expenses of that department $32,540 more than at present, or $15,540 more than under the former administration.

Among the increases granted last night were the following: Electrical engineer, increased from $100 to $110; two assistant electrical engineers, $75 to $80 a month; stokers in the fire bureau, $50 to $65; superintendent of horses, $75 to $100 a month; assistant storekeeper, $60 to $75; elevator operators, $50 to $60; 14 detectives from $100 a month to $125.

The ordinance for the public safety department, as amended, was passed finally and the ordinance for the charities department taken up. It was amended to increase the pay of the carpenters from $2.50 a day to current union wages. W. H. Brand called attention to the fact that all the inmates of the city home had one cook while the officers had two cooks. He offered an amendment increasing the chief cook's salary from $30 to $50, but this was not.

The public works ordinance was the last. Armstrong moved to amend the blanket clause by restricting the number of laborers and artisans to be employed by the director to read the "number designated in the ordinance," instead of the "number the director may deem necessary."

Armstrong declared that the Wallace act provided that the number and compensation of the employes of all departments should be fixed in the ordinance and he called attention to the fact that no other director had been given the power asked by Director Bigelow.

Asked Bigelow Questions.

Director Bigelow was interrogated by Armstrong M. G. Leslie and by Brand. To their questions the director blandly stated that he had held this power for a number of years and had never abused it, because he could not exceed his appropriation.

Leslie told the director that while it was true that the director had previously had the power to appoint employes at will, that this power had only been conferred upon him after a bitter fight in councils in which the director had won by the same tactics he was putting the ordinance through in the present instance.

Brand called the director's attention to the fact that Controller Larkin had said he would not pay employes unless they were designated in an ordinance passed by councils, and the director replied:

"The controller may have been quoted to that effect in a newspaper, but he will pay them now."

Armstrong took the floor again and sharply criticised Stevenson. He said that the power formerly given to Director Bigelow to increase the pay roll was one of the things which had defeated the "Old Ring." He said a Citizens party in power

"The past administration had a charitable institution in the city hall to give out jobs and it seems that the doors are now being opened wide for another charitable institution to make jobs for friends of the Citizens party," he said.

How the Vote Was Recorded.

Armstrong's amendment to eliminate the blanket clause was lost, only the following members voting in the affirmative: Armstrong, Cress, Hale, John Lewis, Thomas O'Brien, Rodgers and West.

The ordinance was then passed on second reading and the motion to suspend the rules for final passage was made. This failed for lack of the required majority. The vote stood 28 ayes to 11 noes, as follows:

Ayes—Baldauf, Barker, Beckert, Beehner, Bole, D. F. Crawford, Delaney, Fitzpatrick, Hogue, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lawler, Martin, McNally, McNeil, Reitz, Schad, Shearer, Shaw, Soffel, Walls, Willley, Wyrnard, Zenger and President Crawford—28.

Noes—Armstrong, Brand, Cavett, Cross, Leslie, John Lewis, Thomas O'Brien, Rodgers, Semmelrock, Stevenson and West—11.

An ordinance framed by Director Bigelow, was introduced by D. F. Crawford, giving telephone, telegraph, street car and electric light companies five years in which to remove their poles and overhead wires and cables from all the streets of the city. The ordinance also provides that companies seeking franchises in the future from councils shall be compelled to bury their wires.

Director Bigelow explained that the ordinance did not repeal the ordinance of 1895, which required the wires on the seven main thoroughfares of the city to be buried in eight years. He said this ordinance would be enforced.

He also stated that the ordinance would have to be amended in committee to enable the street car companies to keep their trolley wires up as it was only intended to make them bury their feed wires.

WILL NOT STOP SALE

Speyer & Co. Announce Receivership Will Not Interfere With Auction.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Concerning the appointment of John Carruth of Philadelphia as receiver for the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, Charles H. Tweed of Speyer & Co. said:

"The action of the Connecticut court will not interfere with the sale of the securities of the Consolidated company October 1. The appointment of a receiver places the affairs of the company in the hands of an individual. No arrangement has been made for postponing the sale and I know nothing of the report that Mr. Clercue had raised the $5,050,000 needed to satisfy our claim."

PIANO BARGAIN.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE MONEY.. HOFFMANN'S, 537 SMITHFIELD ST.

We have a fine upright piano that is going to be sold at one-half its value. This instrument has that rich, mellow tone and great volume usually found in $450 to $800 pianos; the case is of beautiful figured mahogany, handsomely carved and action is light and responsive.

This piano has been used a short time, but its appearance does not show it; in fact, it would be a bargain at $300, but only $155 buys it now.

Don't miss this exceptional chance to buy a good piano, fully warranted at half price; remember, only $155. A visit to our store will satisfy you, or if you cannot come in, write for further particulars.

HOLD UP TAX BILL IN UPPER BRANCH

and Chairman Wainwright stated that he thought action on the ordinance ought to be postponed as it had been acted upon very hastily by the joint finance committee. He said the bill ought to be held up until more information was obtained from Director Bigelow. Sankey opposed the delay, but the motion to postpone action on the ordinance was carried, Sankey alone voting in the negative.

The committee approved the $225,000 bond ordinance for the bureau of health, and two measures for the payment of bills. Then the committee made its report to select council. Stevenson was a spectator at the meeting of the finance committee and when the committee adjourned he immediately sought Douglas, who made trips to the committee room. Douglas promised that an effort would be made to have the tax ordinance withdrawn from the committee's hands. Stevenson was indignant and suspicious.

Stevenson Blamed Bigelow.

He freely blamed Bigelow, Hays and Verner with having a hand in the holding up of the ordinance. He promised to retaliate by introducing an ordinance in common council, in the evening, to build a municipal electric light plant, to take the city contract from the Allegheny County Light Company, which is favored by the new administration. He also declared that unless the ordinance came out of the committee he would join the Republicans of common council in killing the Bigelow blanket ordinance.

The story how Douglas and the other Citizens members foiled Stevenson is an interesting one. After the finance committee had made its report, in which mention of the linear tax measure was omitted, Douglas took the floor and made a motion that the finance committee report the action it had taken on the tax measure. Chairman Wainwright explained that the ordinance had been held up until the next meeting to obtain more information regarding it.

Douglas then moved that the ordinance be recalled from the committee and President John S. Lambie ruled Douglas' motion out of order, stating that the reports of committees were being received and that such a motion should be made under the head of new business. Douglas appealed from President Lambie's decision and the vote of the appeal disclosed a peculiar situation. Among those voting to sustain the president's ruling was John A. Murphy, of the Twentieth ward, who explained that he believed the ruling was technically correct. He said he was ready to vote to recall the ordinance from the committee when such a motion was in order.

Murphy Not With Combine.

Murphy showed that in this matter, and also in the dispute over the filtration resolution, that he was not in line with the combine. The members of the combine made no explanation of their vote. W. E. Sankey broke away from the combine because he was aiding Stevenson. The combine carried with it four Citizens members which was sufficient to sustain President Lambie by the narrow margin of 17 to 15.

The four Citizens voting with the combine were John Costello, of the Thirty-fifth ward; George S. Fleming, of the First ward; P. B. Kearns, of the Tenth ward, and William Schempp, of the Thirteenth ward. The vote stood as follows:

To sustain the president and against the recall of the tax ordinance: Atkinson, Costello, Diehl, Fleming, Kearns, Murphy, Perry, Piatt, Ruhlandt, Schempp, Schneider, Stewart, Upperman, Voskamp, Wainwright, Wilson, Zahniser—17.

To sustain the appeal: Barry, Booth, Donahue, Douglas, Gallagher, Geary, Jones, Lang, Morgan, O'Brien, Parker, Sankey, Schlernitzauer, West, Wightman—15.

After the vote was announced Stevenson again found Douglas and secured a promise that another motion to recall the ordinance should be made under the head of new business, later in the proceedings. This, however, failed to materialize. Just before new business was reached Douglas left the council chamber and J. W. Ruhlandt made a motion to adjourn, which was carried unanimously.

Machine Did Not Want Hazen.

That the Bigelow machine is working toward the adoption of mechanical filtration was shown by select council defeating an amendment to substitute the name of Allen Hazen for that of Col. Alexander M. Miller, as one of the three experts on the commission to pass upon the $7,152,000 estimates of Director E. M. Bigelow; also by the failure to amend the Brown resolution so as to give the commission power to make recommendations concerning the size and cost of a plant for Pittsburgh.

Douglas, as floor leader for the Citizens, opposed the amendment. The reasons offered by Douglas were that Hazen was formerly employed by the city and that all new men were wanted to sit on the commission.

Murphy, who offered the amendment, stated that the objections mentioned by Douglas were his identical reasons for advocating the employment of Hazen instead of Miller. He said Miller was a pronounced advocate of mechanical filtration while Hazen was impartial toward both systems. He thought Hazen would be an invaluable member of the commission for the reason that he had been formerly employed by the city and had prepared the plans upon which a part which a part of the estimates of Director Bigelow were based.

Murphy's Amendment Defeated.

Hazen, he said, was familiar both with the plans and local conditions. The amendment, however, was lost by the following vote:

Ayes — Murphy, Sankey, Upperman, Voskamp, Wainwright, Wilson, Zahniser and President Lambie—8.

Noes—Atkinson, Barry, Booth, Costello, Diehl, Donahue, Douglas, Fichtel, Fleming, Gallagher, Geary, Jones, Kearns, Lang, Morgan, O'Brien, Perry, Piatt, Poke, Ruhlandt, Schempp, Schlernitzauer, Schneider, Stewart, West Wightman.—26.

The Brown resolution was then passed in its original form, President Lambie, however, voting against it on both readings.

The $225,000 bond ordinance for the bureau of health was passed finally by a unanimous vote, also the ordinance giving the trustees of the Carnegie institute authority to build a power plant and lay a switch in Junction hollow to supply the institute and the new technical school. A number of minor bills were passed finally without opposition.

STICKING TO PRICES.

Steel Billet Pool Publishes Rates at the Distributing Centers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The steel billet pool, which includes the United States Steel Corporation and all of the important independent producers, has officially notified the trade that there will be no reduction from the recently established minimum of $27 per ton, but consumers still remain skeptical.

The affirmation of the present schedule by the pool makes the price for billets at the main distributing centers as follows: Pittsburgh, $27; New York, $28 75; Philadelphia, $28 25; Chicago, $28; Birmingham, $29 25; Buffalo, $27 75; Cincinnati, $27 75; St. Louis, $28 75; Denver, $40 25; San Francisco, $39 25.

The ability of the members of the steel billet pool to hold prices at the established schedule is admitted, if all its members hold faith. Consumers who are hoping for lower prices base their hope on the inability of the pool to prevent secret cutting when competition for business becomes keener.

CARNEGIE NOT UNEASY.

Views Decline in Steel Corporation Shares With Utmost Complacency.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(Special Cable.)—The slump in United States Steel stock caused some anxiety as to its probable effect on Andrew Carnegie's library endowments. It is stated, however, that Mr. Carnegie views the slump with the utmost complacency. An appeal to him today on this subject elicited the following response:

"Mr. Carnegie never owned any second-mortgage bonds or shares of the United States Steel Corporation. His bonds are first-mortgage bonds, covering all the property, and are not quoted on the stock exchange."

SMALLPOX SITUATION.

Health Authorities in Both Cities Well Pleased With Conditions.

Harry Jones, a colored boy 4 years old, whose parents live at 6305 Everett street, died of smallpox yesterday. He had been ill seven days. The new cases reported yesterday were those of Patrick Fitzpatrick, 4907 Dearborn street; Mary Beisler, 5167 Butler street, and Lawrence Peterson, 174 Cotton alley.

One new case of smallpox was reported yesterday to the Allegheny bureau of health. It was that of Frederick Buehl, aged 27 years, and single, of 848 East Ohio street. Superintendent McLaughlin, of the bureau of health, expressed himself yesterday as highly pleased over the control his bureau now has of smallpox cases in Allegheny.

Yesterday morning Avalon's public school reopened. The 260 pupils enrolled were met at the door by Principal J. H. King and Mary McLaughlin, one of the teachers. Those who could show vaccination certificates were admitted. Six were turned away for having failed to comply with this regulation.

SHOOK HANDS ALL ROUND.

President Roosevelt Exchanges Pleasant Greetings With Philadelphia Crowd.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—The train bearing President Roosevelt to Washington arrived at West Philadelphia at 1:04 p. m. and left four minutes later. President Roosevelt alighted from his car and was approached by about 25 persons who had gathered on the platform. He smiled and said:

"I am glad to see you. The crowd is so small I guess I can shake hands with you."

One of the newspaper men in the crowd asked the president if he had enjoyed his vacation. He replied:

"I did. I had a bully time and I never felt better in my life. I am now ready for 13 months more of hard work."

WAS WAYLAID AND BEATEN BY STRIKERS

Michael Barrons, an employe of the Elba Iron works in Second avenue, near Greenfield avenue, is at his home in Kearcher street, Greenfield, in a serious condition from injuries received Saturday night a short distance from his home. It is alleged that Barrons was waylaid by men on strike at the Elba iron works and badly beaten. He was found two hours after the assault and taken to his home. Barrons' nose was broken, several of his teeth knocked out and he was otherwise badly bruised. The physician attending him says he will not be able to work for at least three weeks. Some time after the men went on strike Barrons, it is alleged, returned to work and the strikers threatened to do him up unless he quit.

BOY THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN KIDNAPED, RETURNS HOME

James Keefer, the 13-year-old son of Harry Keefer, of Blair street, Glenwood, an employe of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was returned to his home yesterday by employes of the railroad at New Castle, Pa. Young Keefer was found with a gang of tramps, at New Castle, by the railroad men, and detained till his father could be communicated with in the morning. His father last night said that his son boarded a freight train to go to Schenley park, but as the train was scheduled to go through to New Castle, the boy was compelled to remain on board till that city was reached. It was reported that young Keefer was kidnaped, but his father denied this.

Death Follows Finding of Aged Man.

Shortly after being locked up he became unconscious and was removed to the hospital. It is not known how he received the injury which caused his death.

Sauer Narrowly Escaped Robbery.

The timely arrival of two men saved Leonard Sauer of Turtle Creek from being robbed early yesterday morning. While walking along Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, about 1 a. m., he was set upon by three men and thrown to the ground. One was searching him when the two other men came around the corner and the footpads fled.

In Collision With Street Car, an Ambulance Carrying Sick Boy Is Wrecked.

WOMAN SHOWS GREAT NERVE

Despite the Danger and Shock, Her First Thought Was for Child Patient Who Was Unconscious from Typhoid Fever—Carried Him Out Amid Cheers.

Carrying a boy delirious with typhoid fever to the Pittsburgh Hospital for Children, an ambulance dashed down Pride street from Crawford street, last night about 6:40, in front of a swiftly-running inbound Frankstown avenue car. In the resulting collision the ambulance was partly wrecked. The two women nurses in the vehicle were severely shocked. One stuck to her post and cared for the sick boy. The driver was thrown from his seat and suffered numerous bruises. The two horses were hurt, one of them so badly that it had to be shot.

The patient was apparently unhurt. He was unconscious from the fever when the accident occured and remained so. The one nurse who remained at his side lifted him from the wrecked ambulance after the collision and carried him to a drug store across Fifth avenue. There he was laid on a soda water counter and an hour's wait was necessary before a carriage arrived to take him to the hospital.

The ambulance was returning from a call to the residence of Isaach Myerich of No. 80 Crawford street. The symptoms of typhoid fever had developed strongly in his 11-year-old son and it was determined to send him to the Children's hospital.

The ambulance was driven by Thomas Hankins. The grade from Crawford to Pride and then to Fifth avenue is steep, and it is said the vehicle was going down the hill at a breakneck pace. The car had not prepared for a stop at Pride street and was going rapidly. In the collision the engine was torn from the ambulance and the driver was thrown far to one side. One of the nurses jumped from the ambulance.

The crowd that gathered saw one nurse emerge from the ambulance with the child carefully wrapped in a blanket and gave her a cheer.

TILLMAN ON TRIAL FOR KILLING EDITOR

Celebrated Murder Case Now Before South Carolina Courts.

LEXINGTON, S. C., Sept. 28.—Former Lieut. Gov. James H. Tillman was placed on trial today under indictment charging him with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia State. When the court adjourned tonight six witnesses had been examined. Tillman has the most extensive array of counsel ever gathered in this state, 11 attorneys having been engaged for his defense. Tillman pleaded "not guilty."

Policeman Boland was the first witness and he said Tillman admitted having shot Gonzales. The four other witnesses testified as to the clothing exhibited. There are 200 witnesses to be heard. Mrs. J. H. Tillman, and also the mother of the defendant, were present at the opening of court and remained throughout the day's session, occupying seats within the railing.

MARTIN WILL RECOVER.

Victim of Dynamite Plot Rapidly Improving in Hospital.

Charles L. Martin, the surviving victim of the Washington county dynamite plot, is rapidly improving at the Homeopathic hospital. The physicians say there is little doubt as to his recovery, and the injured man is so certain he will get well that he is planning for the resumption of his duties as bookkeeper of the Ferguson Contracting Company. Mr. Martin seeks relief in smoking and during the hours that he is awake he has a cigar close at his side.

He has had no callers. His wife and other relatives are expected to visit him at the hospital today.

jury was inclined to believe that there was two or three men. The witness was questioned as to the character of Vashner or Vichner. He said that Francis and Vishner understood the use of explosives perfectly. Ferguson had said once that next to Jack Crane, Vishner was the best powder man in his employ.

Was no Ill Feelings.

Vishner, it should be explained, was a foreman at Camp Ferguson and left at the time of Francis. Ferguson, so it is said, accused Francis of taking him away. The witness said, however, that he knew of no ill feeling between Ferguson and Francis.

The coroner at this point, in a whisper, asked Marion Ferguson, a brother of the deceased, who attended the inquest, if it were true that the deceased had feared Francis. He said no. He was considered a "weak sister," as Mr. Ferguson said.

J. H. Donahue, walking boss, who arrested the two men Friday night, was the next witness. His first testimony related to the location of the tool house from which he dynamite and battery were stolen. He said that the battery and mine had been placed by a man who understood the work.

Other witnesses were Thomas Hanna and his wife, who were on the road before the accident and who saw Francis and Huston; M. S. Enfield, who give similar testimony; Lewis Liggett, the farmer who saw the man with the satchel disappear; J. R. Brown and John Kelly.

The jury was composed of M. M. Hemphill, foreman; W. E. Lane, J. M. Clark, J. H. Denning, J. N. Brownlee and J. T. Thompson. District Attorney Underwood was present and did some questioning. The prisoners were driven out by Sheriff Carruthers at noon and returned to the city at dusk. There were no unusual incidents attending the journey and the inquest. The attendance was small.

Mrs. Martin, the wife of Charles Martin, the injured bookkeeper, who is at the Homeopathic hospital, Pittsburgh, left here during the morning for that city. Mrs. Ferguson and her daughter also left West Middletown this morning, being met by her brother, Mr. Case of Loogootee, Ind. She will go tomorrow to Shinnston, W. Va., near Clarksburg, the home of George Ferguson, where she will remain for a short time.

The body of Mr. Ferguson will be disinterred this fall and taken to Evansville, Ind., the family burial ground. George and Marion Ferguson left here after the inquest for Pittsburgh. One or both of them may return to the camp later in the week.

NORTON ENGAGES MORE DETECTIVES FROM HERE

General Manager of Ferguson Company Says There Will Be No Let-Up in Search.

R. T. Norton, general manager of the Ferguson Construction Company, returned to Pittsburgh at noon yesterday and immediately began to make arrangements for placing a larger detective force on the explosion case. Before the afternoon was over he had been in conference with the managers of several agencies, and it is likely that a large number of the best operatives in this district will be at work on the case today.

In regard to the offer of a larger reward, he said that this was under contemplation. It is the intention of the company, however, to keep the detectives steadily at work until they are confident the right ones have been secured.

In regard to the two men who are now under arrest, Mr. Norton is still non-committal. He says that they account fairly well for their whereabouts all the time that the plot was being formed. He is confident there was more than one person engaged in the preparation of the mine. The work of carrying the battery, large coil of wire and the dynamite from the broken tool box to the scene of the tragedy would take one man half a day, he says. To have accomplished the work quickly at least two men were needed.

the passions of the men by an offer made by the Brotherhood of Woodmen, an organization maintained among the lumbermen, to furnish an attorney free of charge to collect all pay checks left in his hands.

Roughs are Troublesome.

The meeting broke up without any particular confusion or disorder. About 10:30 an alarm of fire was turned in from the pulp mill and the department responded, but no blaze could be discovered. The turning in of the alarm was evidently the work of some of the rough element which has gathered in large proportions to help along the work of disorder.

An effort was made late today to get a body of the rioters to cross the river to the Duquesne and also put the power house and street railway out of commission, but it was not successful. On account of this rumor, the local company of state troops was mobilized at the armory and some extra policemen were put on duty. A battalion of regulars from Toronto, the King's grenadiers are expected to arrive at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning and their coming is awaited with feverish impatience. Another company of militia from Sudbury is expected by midnight.

WILL HAVE TO DO MORE RIPPING

Bigelow Bosses Find It Necessary to Make Some Changes in the Pay Roll.

WANT TO HEAL SORE SPOTS

Regular Organization in the Sixth District Is to Be Forced Out—Effort Will Be Made to Settle Fourteenth Ward Contest Today.

Thomas S. Bigelow, Mayor Hays and County Chairman Murry A. Verner devoted all of yesterday to an end avor to heal sore spots in the Citizens party organization. As a result of their work there will probably be a number of changes in the city and county payrolls.

In many of the wards men were appointed to office against the protest of the regular Citizens organization. It was thought at the time, the trouble could be smoothed out later. In the preparations for another fight all of these sore spots are being exposed and much difficulty is being experienced in healing them.

In order to get at the bottom of the dissatisfaction, the bosses decid d to sit as a court of inquiry. Delegati ns from each ward are to be called in and hearings of the grievances will be held. These political doctors will apply the sort of salve most likely to work a cure. At headquarters yesterday it was admitted that a number of changes in the payroll would have to be made. This will mean that Citizens who are now in o fice will be thrown out to make room for others whose friends have more "pull."

Campbell Forced Out.

Delegations from the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards were before the bosses yesterday. Today representatives from the Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth wards are to be given an audience. The whole city is to be gone through and numerous country delegations will have to be heard.

In addition to these smaller grievances the bosses still have the big fights in the Sixth legislative district, and in the Eleventh and Fourteenth wards to pass upon. Effort will be made to reach a decision on them today. In the Sixth the regular organization, headed by John H. Campbell, is to be thrown out. W. W. Mechling is to be placed in charge and the Nesbit faction recognized.

The plan is to have Mechling and Campbell each submit a list from which 25 names will be chosen by Verner and Hays. The men selected will compose the new campaign committee. Campbell and one or two of his friends will be offered places and the remainder of the committeemen will be anti-Campbell. If Campbell is not satisfied with this arrangement, he will be told the decision is final. In case he continues to fight he will no doubt be dismissed from the clerkship he holds in the office of Recorder J. Denny O'Neil.

Decision in the Eleventh.

In the Eleventh ward contest the decision will no doubt be in the interest of the Shore-Lamb faction. The bosses hope to appease the wrath of the opponents to Shore and Lamb by the distribution of some patronage.

Effort is to be made tonight to have the warring factions in the Fourteenth ward agree to the election of M. J. Ehrenfeld for chairman. Last week Capt. E. Y. Breck said that he would not agree to Ehrenfeld, but he may be induced to change his mind. W. J. Moore has never committed himself on the election of Ehrenfeld, but his supporters have said that they would never stand for any one but Moore. The Citizens bosses think that they will be able to settle the trouble tonight.

The old soldiers are indignant that the Citizens should appeal to the soldier vote. The reference in their platform to the veterans is making the heroes of '61 angry. The 58 soldiers who were ripped out of office by Mayor Hays to make room for Democrats do not take kindly to the announcement of the platform builder that they were removed from their positions for the good of the service.

Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee, will today endeavor to secure a conference with Mayor Hays and Mayor Wyman. The purpose is to interest them, as heads of the government in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, in the movement to secure the next Republican national convention for this city.

A certificate nominating the regular Republican state candidates by the Citizens party, was filed in the state department yesterday by Senator W. S. Woods.

MINISTERS DISCUSS D A VARIETY OF SUBJECTS

Anniversary of Permanent Annuity Fund—Preparing for Episcopal Congress.

The Pittsburgh conference of the permanent annuity fund of the Methodist Episcopal church held a meeting in the Methodist building yesterday afternoon and transacted considerable business in connection with the support of superannuated ministers, which is the object of the fund. Six of the 10 members of the committee were present, and arrangements were made for holding an anniversary on Saturday evening, October 10, in Emory Methodist Episcopal church, East End. J. F. Berry, editor of the Epworth Herald, published in Chicago, will address the meeting.

Preparations are being made for the Episcopal congress, which will be held here November 3. Nearly all of the leading men of the Episcopal church will attend the gathering. Among the prominent men who will attend, as shown by the revised list received from New York yesterday, are: Bishop H. C. Potter, New York; Bishop A. H. Vincent, Springfield, Mass.; Bishop W. C. Doane, Albany, N. Y.; the Rev. H. P. Nichols, New York; Silas McBee of The Churchman, New York; Dean C. D. Williams, Cleveland, O.; Dean A. A. Butler, Faribault, Minn.; Dr. J. H. Osborne, Boston, Mass., and the Rev. H. L. Washburn, Worcester, Mass.

All of the ministerial associations of the city heard addresses and papers at their meetings yesterday, with the exception of the Baptists, who devoted their time to a general review of the latest books.

"Some of the Essentials of General Conference Delegates," was the subject of a paper delivered before the Methodist Episcopal ministers by the Rev. George H. Bunn, pastor of the Munhall Methodist Episcopal church.

The liquor traffic was attacked by the Rev. Edwin R. Werrell of Butler, in a paper before the Presbyterian ministers and the work of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was praised.

"Lessons of Prevailing Prayer" was the subject of the address of the Rev. J. T. McCrory in a talk to the United Presbyterian ministers.

"Criticism and the Supernatural" was the subject of the Rev. George C. Sheppard at the Methodist Protestant meeting.

The Lutheran ministers heard a paper on "How to Fill up the Ranks of the Ministry," by the Rev. W. H. Nicholas.

All Is Life and Action in This Store These Days.

Our Fashion Show last week whetted the tastes for the new, and yesterday vast numbers of people set out to get that new. We have provided amply. The novel is here as well as the staple. Each day we give you specimens of our low prices. Along that line these quotations.

Newest of Dress Trimmings.

Velvet Ribbons are going to be used extensively as Dress Trimming this Fall and coming Winter. We know what we are speaking of when we refer to ours. They are our own importations.

In Black Velvet Linen Back Ribbon the width range is started at the tiny eighth of an inch and runs along to 3-inch widths. The price starts at 35c a bolt of 10 yards and rises easily to $5.50 a bolt.

In colored Velvet Linen Back Ribbon—light blue, pink, navy, golden brown, green, tan, red—the widths are from one-eighth of an inch up to 2 inches, and the prices from 35c a bolt up to $2.00.

We are flattered by the great appreciation of our collection of Dress Trimmings, most of them imported, and we beg to assure you that variety will be an important feature throughout the season, as well as that other important feature, low prices. Late arrivals—

A new line of black and white inserting Lace combined with Silk Braid, 1 inch to 2½ inches, $1.00 a yard and up to $2.25.

New Black Braid, Silk Persian Lamb Trimming, in band effects, from 1 inch to 2½ inches wide, 50c a yard and up to $1.75.

The same Black Braid in large designs, $1.00 a yard and up to $3.00.

New Spangled Robes.

Scintillating Spangles! Good, if it is a little flowery. These Robes deserve all the superlatives they can be burdened with, for they are beyond question pleasing and fascinating.

It will be understood, of course, that we are referring to unmade robes—ready to run together quickly.

Everything to please every feminine taste—a collection of Imported Spangled Robes that was personally selected, and each robe possesses that good taste which is the charm of all good dressers.

$10.00 each and easily along to $90.00.

Now for Finest Furs.

Our Fur Sales have been very large since we inaugurated the special sale some six weeks ago. We have been under the necessity of reordering Furs, and it must not be understood that the sale was confined to the medium grades. Fine Furs were much sought after, and it was in the finer grades that we had to bring in a second invoice. Yesterday some of the finest specimens we have seen came to us, among them—

A Handsome Set—Pelerine and Muff—the fur of the very favored Chinchilla. The Pelerine is finished with chenille fringe and Rhinestone buckles; large flat Muff. An exceedingly handsome set. Price, $400.00.

Another set of Blended Mink—Pelerine has long stole ends and the finish all around is of deep Chenille fringe. The Muff is perfectly flat. Price is $275.00.

A very handsome set fashioned from the delicate Broadtail Fur and trimmed with bands of Ermine, both Pelerine and large flat Muff are finished with white and black ornaments. Price of this set is $375.00.

There is also another set of Broadtail combined with lynx, and the contrast between the short curly fur of Baby Lamb and the long silken fur of the lynx is quite remarkable. The Pelerine and Flat Muff are finished with Braid ornaments. Price of this set is $375.00.

This is also a particularly good time to see about the Sealskin Coat, the coat of Broadtail, as well as the Neckpieces of every fur that is used, for in a short time from now prices are bound to advance.

Handsome Room-Size Rugs.

You'll not realize to what a degree of perfection the American manufacturer has brought the art of rug making until you see this assembly of Room Rugs. The color-schemes evidence the taste of the artist, while the ingenuity of the clever artisan is also well portrayed. A particularly desirable point about these rugs of domestic manufacture is that you can find sizes to fit any size space desired. The following are in the regular carpet size—

Kashmir Rugs, same in name as the Oriental Rugs, and a very clever effort at simulation, are here in choicest patterns and colorings. These rugs are reversible. The size is 12 ft. x 9 ft., and our price is only $10.00 each.

Brussels Rugs—pretty and quiet patterns, soft color small effects that will be appreciated—12x9 ft.—at the special price of $20.00.

High-grade Brussels Rugs—best standard makes, neat effects in all-over patterns—12x9 ft. $25.00 each.

Wilton Rugs—mostly private patterns, richest Persian effects, the personification of elegance for parlor, library or dining room—12x9 ft.—$32.50 each.

French Wilton Rugs—copies of such famous Oriental Rugs as Kirmanshah, Royal Tabreez and Sarouk, soft mellow tones, perfect marvels as to combination of color—12x9 ft.—$50.00 each.

The First Hint of Christmas.

Some things intended for Christmas presents have to be considered early, and among them are Umbrellas mounted with specially designed handles. In recent years this has become quite a Christmas fad. Reference to the matter is had thus early owing to the fact that some time should be given to the selection of the handle and after that allowing as plenty of time to mount them properly.

We are quite ready to show exclusive novelties in separate Umbrella Handles imported from Paris, Vienna and Berlin. The styles are Art Nouveau, Indian Filigree and Antique Ivory in such trimmings as gold, silver, combinations of gold and silver, cloisonne set with pearls, gun metal with gold and silver, Viennese hand-carving enameled on silver with silver and gold trimming.

We mount these handles to your fancy, and the cost will be from $2.50 a handle up to $25.00.

In this connection we desire to say that we have Hunting Crops of welchsel, bamboo and bogwood, the handles trimmed in either ivory or silver, $2.25 up to $6.00 each.

Tuesday, September 29, 1903.

Less apprehension is felt regarding the present cold wave than was felt when the previous one swept over the country. The corn crop is comparatively safe and the threshing of spring wheat has progressed greatly during the interval. Behind the cool area there is warmer weather again, and it should suffice for maturing everything that has escaped the frosts. After that winter may come. The farmer will not care and it will help to boom the trade of the coal man and the merchant.

While the Democratic-Citizens platform talks bravely about the old soldiers, it is mere empty words. The record of the party is absolutely opposed to its platform utterances on this matter, and it is as true now as in the days of "Poor Richard" that "Actions speak louder than words." The Democratic-Citizens organization has not only not given honors or emoluments to the veterans, but has thrown out of office those placed there by the Republican party, who were doing their work faithfully and well, to make room for its own ward workers.

Pittsburgh's baseball club is going into the series with Boston in a somewhat crippled condition, as compared with its form while winning the league pennant, but it is not going in without hope. Mere partial disability of half-a-dozen players is not enough to deter Pittsburgh from entering the contest, or to prevent it from winning the world's championship. Besides, it is probable the Boston club may have a few lame players of its own after the season in the American association. It will be an interesting season. With fair weather it should indicate to some extent the respective merits of the two big baseball leagues.

A movement has been started for the earlier closing of the stores on Saturday evening. One large firm tried this idea a couple of years ago with satisfactory results. Kaufmann's have now decided to close on Saturday at 6:30, thereby giving their weary salespeople a shorter day. Other downtown establishments are considering the propriety of following this example and, no doubt, the movement will become general. Some inconvenience will result to shoppers temporarily, but only until they become accustomed to the new hours. The Saturday half-holiday has become quite general in mills and offices, and surely all will be glad to see the clerks and salespeople given a little of the evening to themselves—in other words, to have them reduced to a nine or ten-hour day on Saturday.

Select council turned down Mayor Hays' proposition to enlarge the scope of inquiry of the proposed commission of filter experts, and rejected the suggestion from the other side to substitute Mr. Allen Hazen for one of the mechanical experts named by common council. The plea was that changes might cause delay and that speed was a consideration of vital import. It is probably better so. The scope of the inquiry can be broadened without specification if deemed necessary, and the worst it can do is to bring in a recommendation for the alum water process along with a verification of the sand filter estimates. That will make the issue positive and that will be some progress. Moreover, the people want to know, like Judge Cobb, exactly where they "are at," and they want to know at once.

Chairman Upperman has given notice for a meeting of his special committee on corporations for Friday afternoon to consider the railroad ordinances. The committee has for weeks had in its possession the ordinances of the Baltimore & Ohio pertaining to the site for its proposed new passenger depot and to the site for its new shops and shop yards. The hold-up of these ordinances has prevented the expenditure of much money in Pittsburgh and the increase of traffic facilities. These ordinances should be reported out at once as the nearest approach to proper action which would have been their adoption before the summer adjournment. The committee also has the Pennsylvania and Wabash Duquesne way elevated ordinances, which are not pressing so hard for immediate action, but the consideration of which may well be begun—particularly that of the Pennsylvania, which has been pending a long time.

In the Democrat-Citizens party yesterday was grievance day. A long, long session was held by the proprietors of the aggregation, while the army of the dissatisfied filed, in, laid their grievances before the triumvirate, got their promises and filed out? It appears that in the wholesale uprooting of faithful public employes to make room for the politically useful many mistakes were made in the haste to get the workers appointed. In scores of instances the wrong man was appointed and grievance day was established to go over the situation and arrange for transfers. If the promises are carried out they will make a bunch happy, but the transferred bunch will be more sore than ever; if none are turned out the present grievances will grow deeper. Such are the penalties of politics on a purely spoils basis, without even a pretense of party cohesion.

The Hoodwink Game.

There is nothing in the proceedings of councils yesterday to indicate that real reforms are intended by the dominant party. The finance committee of the select branch has held up the linear license tax ordinance, passed with such a flourish of trumpets at the special meeting of the common branch last week. The committee denies any intention to delay the ordinance, but claims the privilege of examining it carefully. If that privilege was made to include a submission to the city solicitor in order to have the bill redrawn by him and returned with his written guarantee that it is in legal form it would be highly commendable, but we do not believe any such course is contemplated. More likely it is simply a delay of a week or two to see what will happen.

On the other hand there were certain demonstrations of virtuous haste, rendered wholly ineffective because they were gone about in unparliamentary manner. Being intended to attract the attention of the galleries these efforts probably served their purpose as well as if they had been effective, and the purposes of the Democratic-Citizens party proprietors better. The ordinance does not become operative until May, and it is some months yet to that time. It probably never will be operative. If it is not repealed it is likely to show some legal defect of which the corporations will not be slow to take advantage. It is not intended to be effective as to the corporations so much as it is intended to affect the coming election. Even in this last purpose it will probably fail, for the people are not asleep. They have lost their confidence in Democratic-Citizens pledges without performance and have become properly suspicious of alleged performance just before election.

The Right Spirit.

The treasury department at Washington has just promulgated regulations governing the appointment of unskilled laborers in that department. This is of no great national consequence, of course, being a matter of ordinary routine, and as such it has not been blazoned abroad in the newspapers. But there is a feature of it that is of present local interest, to which we wish to call attention. The regulations, it is said, vary little from those that have been in existence, but they do vary, and the variance is in the interesting particular that there is inserted in them an order of President Roosevelt. It takes form in these new treasury regulations as rule No. 6, and it declares: "Applications of persons over 55 years of age will not be considered, except of honorably discharged United States soldiers or sailors of the civil war, or of the Spanish-American war."

It is not surprising that there should be such a rule. It is of a piece with the whole policy of the Republican party to confer honor and reward on men who devoted their lives to the service of their country and took all the chances of war as a patriotic duty. The president's new order only broadens and extends the rule and practice by absolutely abolishing the age limit where soldiers of American wars are concerned. It is good and approved Republican policy, and the Republicans of Allegheny county have always adhered to such a line of conduct. They have just renewed their pledge of adherence and the presidential order comes opportunely to enable them to point with pride to their own action and his as two expressions of the popular will. The renewal of the Republican pledge by the Allegheny county Republican convention grows out of no violation of it by Republicans. The necessity for it is not because of any party delinquency, but is because during the temporary absence of the party from control of local affairs the Democratic-Citizens alliance in control of local administration has hustled the old soldiers out of office and made the places in which they had faithfully served the means with which to pay debts incurred to ward workers whose services they wished to retain. The old soldiers, of course, have nothing to expect from Democratic administrations or from administrations anxious to hold on to Democratic votes. It is not a surprise, therefore, when Democrats are in power, or in a position to dictate, that the veterans are ousted to make room for others. Nevertheless, the act is resented by all who know the history of their country and who appreciate the sacrifices that were made in its behalf, and it arouses the old spirit and gives new life to the old determination that the men who shouldered the musket at the call of their country shall retain to the end the evidences of their country's substantial appreciation of the work they did for it.

The faithfulness of the Republican party in the discharge of the nation's obligations to the old soldiers is one of the best guarantees of its faithfulness to the interests of the whole people. That it does not forget or neglect this great duty is evidence that it will not neglect others. The Republican party is the party of patriotism, and while patriotism animates the forces of government the nation is safe in all its parts and branches. Devotion to the men who fought for their country is evidence of patriotism. The spirit that animates Theodore Roosevelt in surrounding the old soldiers with the protecting care of the government is the same spirit that has aroused the Republicans of Allegheny county. It is the true spirit not only of patriotism, but of good government, for the two are inseparably associated.

Rioting at the "Soo."

Most deplorable conditions are reported from the Canadian "Soo," where the former employes of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company have resorted to riot as a relief for their pent up feelings. Of course they have made their bad situation very much worse. Their momentary gratification of vengeance by lawless assault upon the property of the company has probably destroyed all the chance they had of getting the wages coming to them. They certainly have not improved that chance. Moreover, they have shattered the public sympathy felt for their misfortune and forfeited the consideration of the "Soo" manager, who has done everything in his power to keep them from starvation.

In such a case, however, it is futile to argue. Reason will supplant the madness of the mob when the regular troops arrive on the scene and perform the operation of bloodletting, or when the fury has worn itself out upon the things animate and inanimate belonging to the company. At the beginning of the trouble there is liquor and at the height of it frenzy. After these will come cold, gray despair and remorse, but it will then be too late to mend what is broken.

The collapse of the Consolidated Lake Superior is without actual parallel in the industrial history of North America, probably of the world. In the past smaller enterprises have fallen suddenly, as this huge concern did. But a few hundred employes thrown out of work might readily be absorbed in a community. It would be no great problem to feed and maintain them until they could find some means of caring for themselves. In this instance, though, thousands of men were called in from the woods and the mines; other thousands were turned out from the mills and factories. All these idle hands have been concentrated in the small town which itself was principally dependent upon the big company. The community was not big enough to absorb the army of the unemployed. The consequence is probably not unnatural, but it is shocking—it is awful.

A Knock or a Boost.

The worst thing that can happen to the political fortunes of a man who is ambitious for political preferment is to have the public lose sight of him. "Don't let the newspapers forget you," once advised a Pittsburgh statesman, now gone to his last home. "If," said he, "you can't have them with you, have them knockin' agin' you. But don't let them forget you're alive." It happens in the whirligig of national politics that a presidential boom peeps above the surface when conditions are not favorable for it, and after attracting a small amount of curious attention it is lost sight of by the public. It may be that it is so badly nipped by the frost of public indifference that it is not able to raise its head again, but if it is a hardy plant and well tended it may survive and even revive and flourish long enough to enjoy further mention or get into the list of the "alsos." It happened that once upon a time there was an appearance above ground of something that was described as the presidential boom of our esteemed contemporary, William R. Hearst. We had really forgotten about it and are only reminded of it now by the publication in a Washington paper of this seeming "knock" under a Norfolk, Va., date line:

"If I know anything of the temper of organized labor in Portsmouth, Va.," said a prominent labor man of that city, "W. R. Hearst's presidential boom will get but little encouragement from the local labor organizations. As individuals some of the labor people of Virginia are for him, but the organization in Portsmouth is showing no disposition to take him seriously. There was a movement in Norfolk to organize a Hearst club among the labor unionists of the city." When asked if a Hearst club would be organized in Portsmouth, the man quoted said: "Maybe so; but it will not be a movement on the part of organized labor of the place."

It would be natural, perhaps, to inquire in connection with the foregoing, "what has Hearst done to merit the opposition of organized labor?" Of course, it would be only polite for some one to explain, and there you have the sprouting of a controversy of which the Norfolk news item is the seed. Therefore, we want to ask who planted the seed? Is it a real knock, or is it a boost in disguise? As we think of it we suspect that it may be the latter. As we think further and recall that the owner of the Hearst boom has had in the past several years a liberal education as a promoter of publicity, we begin to suspect that he may know something about it. Is Mr. Hearst trying to have the newspapers and people remember him? Anyhow, here is his opportunity, and if he doesn't seize it by the forelock it will prove that he is not resourceful enough for the great office now filled by Theodore Roosevelt, and that what has happened to his boom is the proper work of fate.

The announcement that a brand new millionaire wants to colonize American negroes in the Soudan doesn't arouse enthusiasm among the colored brethren. Perhaps, however, they would be willing to have some one with the coin colonize them at the Waldorf.

The lady who thinks the president's wife looks as if she dressed on $300 dollars a year also declares she wouldn't want to be mistress of the White House. This makes it unanimous.

The Highland park zoo has seven lions, and a number of other animals which it wishes to sell. Supt. Tretow should address Tom L. Johnson's great Buckeye show.

What the army maneuvers in Kentucky lack is a dashing rough rider to lead a cavalry charge a la Kaiser Wilhelm. But our rough rider doesn't fight for fun.

Of course, it is true that someone is buying all the stocks that are sold, but that isn't very consoling to the fellows who are compelled to sell.

The Democratic-Citizens platform praises Mayor Hays, but doesn't mention Mayor Wyman. Well, we all want to forget him anyhow.

Mr. Hanna won't hold a joint debate with Clarke and Johnson, but Chairman Dick gives the duet a number of things to chew over.

The organization of Spanish war veterans already numbers 140,000. The G. A. R. will soon have a worthy successor.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

It is understood that W. K. Vanderbilt has definitely decided to take an active part in American racing and that he is planning a stable of splendid proportions for 1904.

The oldest woman college graduate in Massachusetts, if not in all New England, Dr. Sophronia Fletcher, recently observed her 95th birthday at Cambridge. For 30 years she was the attending physician of Wendell Phillips' invalid wife, and has had many distinguished patients.

For the first time in the history of German universities a deaf mute has succeeded in obtaining a doctor's degree. Dr. Walter Kuntze, on whom the University of Leipsic has conferred a Ph. D., is a comparatively young man. His thesis for the degree is regarded as one of the best in recent years.

Gov. Chamberlain of Connecticut declared at a county fair the other day that he is a farmer at heart. In his youth he dug potatoes, mowed the hay, and did all the chores of a farm hand. This remark aroused the enthusiasm of the governor's hearers, who cheered lustily when the chief executive of the Nutmeg state declared that "farmer's daughters make the best wives."

United States Senator William Andrews Clark, who was re-elected president of the national irrigation congress, has had a spectacular career. Born in poverty at Connellsville, Pa., he has been in turn school teacher, lawyer, soldier, country merchant, miner, banker, newspaper publisher and railway operator, and is now immensely wealthy. He is 61 years old. Senator Clark spends much of his time in New York, where he has a palatial home.

Balfour on Macedonia.

Prime Minister Balfour in an open letter to the archbishop of Canterbury defines the attitude of the British government toward the Macedonian question and among other things he says: "We have not now to deal with the simple case of misgovernment or oppression by Turkish officials, but with a problem complicated by the fact that the Christian population of Macedonia is rent in fragments by differences of religion, etc." This is a mere begging of the question, says the Philadelphia Record. The "simple case of misgovernment or oppression" is the whole case; the racial feuds are mere side issues. They could be composed and made to cease immediately by a military government established by the powers and backed by an army of occupation, which might be Austrian, Russian or international—anything but Turkish. The evils described by Mr. Balfour, the detestable system of taxation and tax farming, the excesses of the Turkish troops and the no less atrocious acts of the Turkish landlords, gendarmerie, law courts and brigands cannot be cured without the elimination of the Turks. The ouster of the latter, bag and baggage, is the first prerequisite of any reform policy.

The So-Called Trusts.

The trusts are now undergoing a supreme test of their strength and their ability to fulfil the economic mission assigned to them, says the Wall Street Journal. Their existence is explained to be due to the imperative need of reducing what is called "the waste of competition." It has been held that by lowering the cost of production and eliminating waste and imparting steadiness to rates and prices the trusts would be of the highest possible benefit to the country. Moreover, it has been argued that they would enable us the sooner and the more effectually to enter and capture the foreign markets. Lately the assertion has been made that they would be a tower of strength to us in any trade reaction, serving to keep the reaction within reasonable bounds, and to prevent any such demoralization in prices and rates as have in former panics been so disastrous. Well, we have undergone a severe liquidation in the stock market, and seem to be entering upon a period of partial reaction in the trade, and the trusts are therefore undergoing their first severe test of endurance. Will they accomplish what has been claimed for them?

Tammany's Allies.

Tammany is boasting that it will have oceans of money in this campaign. Whence will it come? There are no Tammany officeholders capable of giving it, and no other sources within Tammany from which to draw it. It can come only from corporations and individuals, outside Tammany and professedly honest and respectable, who are willing to barter the city's good name for illicit profits to themselves through concessions and privileges extending to them by a rascally government at the expense of the city.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Make Haste Slowly.

Considerable advice is being tendered President Roosevelt concerning the Panama canal matter—some to let it drift a few weeks and again to act promptly in favor of the Nicaraguan route. It is probable the president understands the inside and all sides of the question better than any of his advisers, and will do the right thing at the right time. The prospect is not good for accomplishing anything with Colombia, but in an affair of such importance the United States should not proceed rashly. It is a good case for making haste slowly.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Fair Proposal.

King Peter is said to have requested the resignation of his cabinet. One good turn deserves another. Why should not the cabinet request the abdication of King Peter, whose crown fits his head so loosely?—New York Tribune.

TOO NUMEROUS.

We have often read the scriptural command about increasing,
Multiplying and replenishing the earth;
Which the same the human race has been respecting without ceasing,
Since the time our first progenitors had birth.
We have also read the Malthus screed, in which the fact is stated
That if we don't stop this program we'll be over-populated;
And it frankly be admitted, if some lines had been abated,
Or had never seen existence,
We'd be better situated;
As, for instance:

There's the man who gets a job because he is somebody's son;
He's too numerous.
There's the man behind the jimmy, there's the man behind the gun;
He's too numerous.
There's the fossil who is out of date, and should be on the shelf;
There's the pauper as to intellect, who's left a wad of pelf,
Lives by other people's work, and never does a lick himself;
He's too numerous.
There's the fellow who imagines he's the whole, blamed, blooming show;
He's too numerous.
There's the man who thinks he knows it, and lays out to tell you so;
He's too numerous.
There's the man who's after dollars and who has no higher aim;
There's the man who has all truth staked in his theologic claim;
There are several million others whom I haven't time to name
They're too numerous.
—J. A. Edgerton, in Life.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"You talk about a woman's sphere
As if it had a limit.
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task to mankind given,
There's not a whisper, yes or no,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a life, or death, or birth
That has a featherweight of worth,
Without a woman in it."

The author of the above lines is unknown, but it does not make any difference who wrote them, the truth they contain is none the less plain and distinct.

Young writers are apt to try to poke fun at women, and make uncalled-for remarks about their weaknesses and peculiarities, but the more they do it the more glaringly they exhibit their own shallow-mindedness.

Take women out of the world and what would be left worth living for? Society would begin running down at the heels immediately and just keep on running.

It seems quite necessary to keep reminding women of their weaknesses, but there is no sense in pulling them down and kicking them when they are down. There are some good people who believe that women are at the bottom of all the mischief and badness that is going on.

This is wrong. Because you find them wherever men are does not prove they were there first. They are not venturesome, nor do they invent new forms of devilment, but they are ever ready to join men in their adventures. The greatest scamps, robbers, counterfeiters and daredevils were the beloved of women of no mean parts.

All this talk about women leading men astray is the veriest twaddle; yet it is true that they are ever ready to join them in going astray. For a man to accuse a woman of leading him astray is an open, undisguised confession of weakness.

* * * * *

Women are afraid of the dark and will not go into mysterious places alone; but this is not cowardice. Womenly courage will compare favorably with manly courage anywhere and at any time. It is a different sort of courage, though, but none the less genuine.

Women are last at the cross and first at the tomb.

The terrors of sickness and of death never appall her, nor does she ever shrink from burdensome domestic duties. It is marvelous what she can do in an emergency, especially when the comfort of some one near and dear to her is at stake. And when her heart is moved towards the poor and suffering she can do more for them than any man, and she is far less selfish about it.

There is a good deal of talk about woman's sphere. It looks very much as if man made her sphere and she fills it. If it is not a proper sphere it is not her fault any more than his. Man lifted her from the position of servant and menial to one of equality. Not being satisfied with this he boosted her a little higher. He placed her on a pedestal and told her she was too pretty, too fine, too good to work.

And you blame her if she tries to make the best of her position? It is not entirely her fault that her ambition is above being a good housewife, or that she prefers to be ornamental rather than useful. She didn't mount this high horse unaided; and now that she is fairly seated she is not going to come down at the crack of a whip. * * * * *

The modern woman, however, is not light-headed. Some pessimistic observers tell us that she is growing giddier every day, but that isn't right. While she is not much of a philosopher, as a rule, she has lots of good common sense. Here is what one of them has to say in the American Farmer:

"They tell us that the gentlemen are losing their courteousness and assuming a familiar air of comradeship that does not speak well for their training. That is all nonsense, for I know one young fellow who would kneel right down in the mud to tie a lady's shoe and can put on a lady's coat and tuck the big sleeves down as nicely as any girl could, and as respectfully or if his friend were a queen. I rather like to have the boys act as if I had my share of good sense and was able to take care of myself. I think it a great deal more sensible for a young man to treat his girl friends as if they were human beings and his equals, than it used to be to assume that a girl was some ethereal being who must be kept from sun and wind."

* * * * *

It is not right to disguise the fact that one of the crying demands of the times is for more good, practical housewives.

A good many of our girls, and entirely too many of our wives, flare up at such a statement as this, interpreting it to mean that they should go into the kitchen and become menials. That is not it at all. It was Owen Meredith who said:

"We may live without poetry, music or art,
We may live without friends,
We may live without hearts,
We may live without wealth,
We may live without books,
But civilized men cannot live without cooks."

That is just as true as gospel, and the women should accept it is such. If their husbands can afford to hire servants they will be glad to do so, but they will have a right to expect their wives—their partners—to be able to run the kitchen as successfully as they run their part of the business.

A happy marriage should be the highest ambition of every woman, unless she has been set apart by a touch of the fire of genius for a special work.

A woman possessed of genius, whether it be for singing, writing, painting, literature, acting or what not, is not likely to make a good wife for a plodding man or one whose greatest need is a housekeeper. Such women usually need keepers for themselves.

Fortunately for the world genius does not often strike women, although a good many of them imagine they have been touched. The greatest women who have ever lived were those who were able to control men of genius and keep them within proper bounds without detracting from their usefulness.

* * * * *

Some of our modern women flout the idea that their mission is to marry for the purpose of building up homes and helping men to become strong and powerful for good among those about them. In doing this woman wields an influence much greater than if she stood alone.

An English woman—a lady, too—in writing to her favored sisters, says:

"A happy marriage is the best fate for any woman, no matter how talented or cultured she may be, and, if only marriage is entered into, not from caprice or fancy, or for money or a home of one's own, or any other inadequate or irrelevant reason, but from love and true comradeship alone, with a full knowledge of the responsibilities of marriage, and a determination to make it as ideal as possible."

There is the secret of success in marriage expressed in few words.

To marry for any other reason, or purpose, than that set forth in the beginning is to invite failure.

This should be taught as thoroughly as the catechism, and more generally than either the long or short catechisms are taught in this day and age.

Were people brought up with a clear understanding of the true object of marriage, and its responsibilities there would be but few failures as compared with the present average.

If parents would tach their sons and daughters the great fact that their chief mission in life is to marry and to build homes instead of fortunes, there would be more proper mating, more domestic happiness, more healthy, hardy, handsome children than there are now.

Let it be taught among the high and the low, and everywhere that true marriage leads to the highest degree of human happiness and usefulness.

And let it be taught, also, that there is no true marriage without proper mating.

Alaska as a Territory.

Alaska is divided by nature and by lack of transportation facilities into three sections—southeast Alaska, central and northwestern. Owing to the present lack of communication and transportation between the different sections of Alaska, a territorial organization could be formed and maintained only by considerable difficulty and at great expense. For that reason many citizens of the district are by no means enthusiastic over the idea, and yet it will probably be realized in the not far distant future.—Minneapolis Journal.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Although the Bowery has long been used to spectacular proceedings peculiar to itself it never had a greater sensation than it is enjoying this week. The Salvation Army red crusade is in full swing. There was a great performance in one of the theaters along the thoroughfare last night and a converted prize fighter made a ringing speech that carried conviction with it. This evening there was a procession, with torches, music, shouting and other striking elements, which are always effective when contrived and carried out by the army. Commander Booth-Tucker reports many converts and expects to make more. The Bowery was ripe for evangelization and it takes kindly to the spiritual manifestations of this week, even though they may be called also theatrical. For that matter, the more theatrical it is the better the Bowery is disposed to like it. As Mr. Booth-Tucker puts it, the purpose is to reach the Bowery in a way that it never has been reached before. People in that locality are impressionable, as primitive folk usually are, and when they cannot understand a thing they are sure to inquire into it. This is the strength of the present crusade. Most of the denizens of the district attend the meetings or watch the processions with curiosity at first. The Salvationists consider that half the battle.

Morris Park Meeting.

Morris park, where the second race meeting of the season began today, is the largest track hereabouts. It is believed that only one more meeting will be held there after the present one. That will be next spring. In the fall of 1904 the West Chester Racing association expects to move to Belmont park on the Hempstead plains. Then Morris park will be cut up into building lots in all probability. Many persons interested in racing will be sorry to see it go.

Football Craze Resumes Its Sway.

New York small boys who have been interested in "mingies" for the last two or three weeks are throwing aside these playthings. Football engages their attention. So soon as there is a varsity game on the gridiron in this vicity the youngsters get hold of a football somehow and talk learnedly about "touchdowns," "goals," "punts," "drop kicks," "halfbacks" and so forth, like their elders. Football is king for the next two months.

Police Spoil Neighborly Quarrel.

When a race war is in progress in Fifty-second street the opposing armies enter the engagement systematically. They get on the roofs of the houses and pile up bricks by the hundred. Then, when they see any of the enemy in the street, or in a room opposite, they just shy bricks one after the other until the person shied at has got away. White and colored men have been carried on this kind of warfare for some days, but the police took a hand this afternoon. The ammunition will be carted to a brickyard while several of the warriors are in cells.

Nixon Reappears on the Stage.

Lewis Nixon, for a few busy months leader of Tammany Hall in the absence of Richard Croker, who suddenly threw it all up at a moment's notice, has again leaped into the midst of the political stew to "save Tammany." He says he is a candidate for nomination for mayor. He is a Democrat, and it is supposed that, unless Tammany nominates him, his aspirations will flash in the pan. He declares that he will not be an independent candidate. People think that Tammany will be willing enough to make him the standard bearer when the convention is held on Thursday, and that Murphy may be induced to give up his purpose of naming McClellan. Personally Nixon is popular.

The Latest Met by Big Bill.

You do not say "talking through his hat" now. "Big Bill" Devery has invented a new expression to signify that a man does not know what he is doing or saying. He is said to be "walking on his brains." Devery applied this expression to Murphy, the Tammany leader, this afternoon.

Making Ready for Carnegies.

Men and women are busy getting Andrew Carnegie's mansion in this city ready for the occupation of the family. It is expected that they will be here some time this month, although the date is not known. It was the intention of Mr. Carnegie to return earlier, but he changed his plans. The magnificent house at Ninety-first and Fifth avenue is always comfortable, so that the master would find it ready no matter how unexpectedly he appeared. Still, when it is known that the family are likely to arrive soon a little extras are given to the work so that the interior shall be not only spick-and-span, but shall be permeated with that peculiar homelike atmosphere that counts for so much with a man of Andrew Carnegie's sensibilities.

Relief at Mrs. Davis' Probable Recovery.

Much relief is felt here over the announcement from Buffalo that Mrs. Jefferson Davis is much better and is likely to recover. She has a wide circle of friends in this city, where she has spent her winters for so many years, and her passing away would mean a real personal grief to thousands. She is interested in a number of charitable works in this city, besides being a prominent figure in literary matters. She spends much of her time in writing, while her receptions are functions for which invitations are always eagerly sought.

A Solomon Come to Judgment.

Another decision in connection with the liquor selling law which gives a new aspect was made by Magistrate Breen today. He held that when a person ordered a drink on Sunday, the waiter was justified in presuming that the patron meant to order a meal later unless he said positively he wanted only liquor. He was not obliged to order the meal first. The magistrate said that would always be his ruling until reversed by higher authority. A bartender from the Occidental hotel in the Bowery, which has been a Tammany institution for many years, was the defendant, and the magistrate discharged him with the decision here given. It has had the effect of befogging policemen a little more in connection with excise arrests. Considering that they have had misty ideas on the subject right along, through contradictory decisions of magistrates this additional cloud is not regarded with much favor.

Rise of Alva C. Dinkey

"Those who know him, who have watched his career and have seen what he has done, all feel that the affairs of this institution, vast as they are, will be in very safe hands."

That is the closing sentence in an interesting article in last week's Saturday Evening Post on the career of Alva C. Dinkey. It follows a prophecy that some day the president of the Carnegie Steel Company will head the big $1,000,000,000 corporation.

The story tells how this man by his genius and force of character rose to his present position. After a description of his residence at Homestead and considerable about the Homestead steel works, it is told how Mr. Dinkey's first great opportunity came. It says:

"The National Tube Company, and some of the other big concerns controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan, had announced some time before that they were going to manufacture raw steel on their own account, instead of drawing their supply, as heretofore, from the Carnegie Company. This had led to a sharp movement of retaliation. The Carnegie Company, through its president, Charles M. Schwab, announced that if the National Tube Company and its allied concerns would no longer consume the raw steel produced by the Carnegie plants, then the Carnegie Company would consume the steel on its own account by going into the manufacture of tubes. A huge tract of ground was purchased at Conneaut, O., and plans were drawn for the erection there of the largest tube works on earth. The enterprise involved $10,000,000 at the outset. Dinkey was the man chosen to manage the big concern, but Morgan and his associates saw it would be better to form a consolidation, so the big United States Steel Corporation came into existence and the Conneaut works were not built.

"Thus this workman was deprived of his great opportunity for the time being. But it was only for the time being. Mr. Schwab moved to New York as president of the $1,000,000,000 combination; Mr. Corey, then the general superintendent at Homestead, was moved along to Pittsburgh as president of the Carnegie Steel Company, and Alva C. Dinkey, moved from his modest dwelling to the great house of the general superintendent."

Speaking of Mr. Dinkey's start in life the article states:

"In his 16th year he finished his education in the public schools of Braddock. Here are the Edgar Thomson rail mills, founded by the Carnegie Company and built up by Capt. Jones. The science of telegraphy enjoyed at that time a phenomenal boom. The boy Dinkey caught the fever and in the spring of 1882 induced the operator at the Baltimore & Ohio depot in Braddock to give him a chance. He developed a natural aptitude for the business, so much so that when school was dismissed for the summer vacation he was taken on at the depot, without pay, but with the promise of substitution in case an opening offered.

"Not long afterward Capt. Jones was in need of another telegraph operator at the rail mills. He sent over to the first available place, which happened to be the Baltimore & Ohio depot, and they sent the only hand they could spare, young Dinkey. Despite his inexperience, the boy served so well that his prospects for advancement and good pay seemed excellent. But he had other plans for himself. He had determined to become a machinist. He continued with Capt. Jones through the winter, but when spring came he went to the Pittsburgh locomotive works, and enrolled himself as an apprentice in the machine shops."

Young Dinkey worked three years as a machinist's apprentice, but quit because he could not get a journeyman's pay, although he often did more work than many of the journeymen. The story goes on:

"A firm of Pittsburgh electricians was perfecting a motor and needed an expert machinist. One of them had been a telegrapher and Dinkey's telegraphic affiliation, which had never been quite lost, led him across the electricians' path. They came to an understanding and for two years Dinkey worked for the firm as an expert machinist at expert pay. Here he developed the talent that subsequently led to his great rise. Later L. C. Potter, then superintendent of the Homestead works, needed a man in the office who knew something of mechanics and electricity. Dinkey was chosen. To him is due the credit for all of the great electrical labor-saving machines in the Homestead plant."

* * * *

What at first looked like a spring in the young man's wheel, but proved otherwise, is told as follows:

"The great Homestead strike caused the removal, as is well known, of Mr. Potter, and the appointment of Charles M. Schwab as general superintendent. It happened that Mr. Schwab and Mr. Dinkey were brothers-in-law. Mr. Schwab having married Mr. Dinkey's sister. In most corporations such a relationship would have been beneficial. In the Carnegie Company it was the reverse.

"There were so many partners directly connected with the administration of the works that anything savoring of nepotism was much frowned down on. Mr. Schwab himself had most stringent ideas on the subject and the other partners one and all kept a most eager lookout. This made it exceedingly difficult, if not practically impossible, for a relative of one of the partners to find employment in the works. It was this condition that had induced C. M. Schwab's younger brother, Joseph E., to leave the employ of the Carnegie Company some years before. He had gone to a rival company, and it was not until he had made such a phenomenal record with this company as manager that he returned to the Carnegie concern at the unanimous invitation of all the partners. It may be imagined therefore that Mr. Schwab's coming as head of the Homestead works made Mr. Dinkey's position decidedly uncomfortable. But he solved the problem by attending strictly to his own business, working harder than he had ever worked before, and keeping away from headquarters as much as possible. In this way Dinkey got along where some other men less gifted with silence and dogged perseverance might have failed."

Wall Street Politics.

It is a good deal of satisfaction to reflect that Wall street, powerful as it has been through legislative and executive channels in the state and nation, has no weapons to make war on the sentiment of the country. It cannot do much underhand work without being found out, and when it operates above board it hurts rather than helps the cause it opposes. President Roosevelt has taken the stand that Wall street cannot dictate to the government and Wall street has retali

ONE HUNDRED PEOPLE LOST THEIR HOMES

Dangerous Fire in a South Side Tenement Caused Much Excitement Among the Poor Foreign Inmates Last Night.

By the explosion of an oil lamp in a South Side tenement house last night, almost 100 foreigners were rendered homeless and a property loss of $15,000 was sustained.

The Kaufield flats at Nos. 1306 and 1308 Muriel street were discovered on fire at 8:45 o'clock. The blaze was caused by the explosion of a lamp in an upper story room of No. 1308. There were about 100 foreigners, Syrians, Poles and Slavs, living in the house. The excited inmates at once started to throw trunks and clothing out of the windows. When their property had been tossed to a place of safety, they made their exit from the burning building by means of the fire escapes.

A Syrian woman missed her 3-months-old child and gave the alarm. Firemen searched for the babe and found an empty cradle. The infant had been carried outside by some of the inmates.

While the fire was burning fiercely, Samuel Fayed and Frank Doubt were found weeping bitterly. They explained that they were shawl merchants and had a stock worth $7,000 stored in the basement. Owing to an advance in rates they had allowed their insurance policies to expire. They were afraid that the water would ruin their goods.

The damage was chiefly to No. 1308. The loss is placed at $15,000, but it was impossible to learn the amount of insurance.

PROVINCIAL SYSTEM IS LIKELY TO BE ADOPTED

Episcopalian Committee on Provinces Will Make That Recommendation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28.—The Episcopal church will probably adopt a provincial system, somewhat similar to that obtaining in the Catholic church, at the general council meeting in 1904. This movement, together with that seeking to change the name of the church, both of which originated in Milwaukee, will form the most important matters to be considered and there is little doubt of bitter opposition to both.

The joint committee on provinces appointed in 1901 has concluded its deliberations and will report in favor of a canon whereby all dioceses and missionary districts of the church will be united into seven provinces, each province to have a primate or archbishop, with a separate system of government.

According to the plan proposed all the dioceses in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, will be province No. 3. Ohio will be in the fourth province. The legislative body of each province is to be a provincial synod composed of two houses.

SERVIANS IN CONVENTION.

Society in This Country Is in a Flourishing Condition.

The Servian Orthodox Union society opened its third annual convention in Perry's hall, First and James streets, Allegheny, yesterday. All the officers and about 30 delegates were present. The society is composed exclusively of native-born Servians and all its officers are residents of Allegheny county. Jovo Zomanisch of New York, editor of the Servian Patriot, is a delegate.

National President Saivo Hajdin of McKeesport stated in his reports that during the last year 12 new societies have been formed and one new church has been organized. The national treasurer, Jovo Licina, reported that after all claims for benefits and other expenses have been paid, there is still over $5,000 in the treasury.

The reports of the other officials show that the society is in fine condition and that great efforts are being made to increase the membership.

DYNAMITERS DIDN'T BLOW UP HELENA JAIL

HELENA, MONT., Sept. 88.—The ultimatum to Chief Travis by the dynamiters who threatened to blow up the county jail if two of their number were not released expired today without an effort being made to dynamite the jail. The ultimatum to the Northern Pacific railroad demanding $50,000 expires October 1. The joint reward offered by the railroad and state now aggregates $8,500.

Ore Mine Working on Single Turn.

MARQUETTE, MICH., Sept. 28.—The Cleveland Cliffs Company, the largest independent producer of iron ore in the Ishpeming field, today, instructed the management to lay off the night shifts at all four of the company's mines in the Ishpeming region. Some 600 men will be affected. Over-production of ore is assigned as the reason for the curtailment.

Wants His Chickens Back.

Charles Warehak, a white man, is accused of stealing chickens. Charles Abbott of McClure avenue, Allegheny, had four fine fowls stolen from his coop on Sunday, and yesterday he swore out a warrant before Alderman David Thomas charging that Warehak took them. Warehak was arrested at his home in Leckey avenue, Allegheny, and gave bail for a hearing this evening.

Beaver Democrats Name Ticket.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 28.—Special.)—The National Army and Navy Spanish War Veterans are holding their annual assembly here, the opening day being devoted to a parade and business session. About 1,000 men were in line.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR THE CONSOLIDATED

First Step Taken to Prevent the Speyer Sale of the Lake Superior Company.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 28.—John G. Carruth, the millionaire president of the Philadelphia Trust Company, was today made receiver of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company by Judge James Platt of the United States district court here. His appointment blocks the move of Speyer & Co. to sell the plant at forced sale.

Judge Walter Noyes of New London, who showed credentials from 100 large stockholders, presented the request for the receivership. Speyer & Co. did not have a representative present to contest the appointment. Within 15 minutes after Judge Noyes moved for the appointment of a receiver Mr. Carruth had been chosen and had given bonds.

Judge Noyes said after the proceedings that the fight would be when he would call for an ancillary receiver to prevent any move in the state where the property is located. Some fear is felt that the Speyer firm may take some action tomorrow morning in New York before the receivership can be obtained.

ALL WANT TO FORGET.

Sensational Report Anent Wilkinsburg's Blue Law Crusade Is Denied.

Druggists in Wilkinsburg who were the principal sufferers in the recent blue law crusade, do not propose to seek vengeance on the church committee of 12 by exposing the alleged shortcomings of the close Sabbath advocates. Last night the druggists issued a statement repudiating an article in an afternoon newspaper which purported to be an interview with one of the committee of five who was quoted as saying that private detectives had been hired to harass the churchmen.

The soda water mixers and the blue law crusaders have buried the hatchet and there will be no more prosecutions. The detectives have been dismissed and both parties are trying to forget the strenuous campaign of the summer.

BOY SHOT DEAD IN MISTAKE FOR GAME

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Just at dark this evening Aden Grove, aged 27, a son of Francis Grove of Fairview, this county, heard a rustling noise outside the farmhouse. He looked out and saw a dark object moving in a tree near by. He seized a gun and fired. Going back to the house he called to his parents, saying that he had shot some kind of game. With expectancy, all went out and examined the tree, when the horrifying fact was discovered that Albert Grove, aged 18, had been killed.

Reunion of Spanish War Veterans.

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Democratic county convention held here this morning nominated the following ticket: C. E. Jackson, New Brighton, for prothonotary, and H. C. Braiden, of Beaver Falls, for county commissioner.

CAPITAL NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS.

Burton R. Parker of Detroit, Mich., has been appointed supervising special agent of the treasury department, succeeding W. S. Chance of Canton, O., who has been transferred to St. Paul. Mr. Parker has been in the service since 1890.

Secretary Shaw has gone to Chicago. He will return the last of the week. The secretary received a dispatch from President Roosevelt saying that the contemplated cabinet meeting today will not be held because two members of the cabinet are not in the city.

On the recommendation of Capt. Willard H. Brownson, commandant of the Naval academy, Secretary Moody has authorized the discontinuance of the rule prohibiting smoking so far as it applies to the first class. In the opinion of the secretary the members of this class are quite old enough to be relieved of such a restriction.

Col. George C. Reid, adjutant and inspector of the marine corps, has applied for retirement with the rank of brigadier general. Secretary Moody has sent the application to the president without any recommendation.

NEW WATER COMPANIES TO OPERATE UP-RIVER

Four Concerns Would Do All Business on South Side from Glenwood to Dravosburg.

To supply the entire district on the south side of the river, from a point opposite Glenwood to Dravosburg, is the plan of the promoters of the four water companies about Homestead, the names of which were announced in The Gazette several days ago. The companies plan to acquire the Homestead and Duquesne boroughs' water plants, to increase the pumping and filtering facilities and to supply all one side of the Monongahela valley for many miles. Their charter applications will be heard on October 12.

The four companies are known as the Munhall Borough, the Homestead, the West Homestead and the Inter-Urban Water companies. Those backing the companies are A. R. Hunt, general superintendent of the Homestead steel works; Harry Davis, assistant superintendent; Homer Williams, superintendent of the Duquesne steel plant; J. Merrill Wright; W. L. McConegly, Reid Kennedy, president of the Monongahela Trust Company, Homestead. The companies will have a combined capital of about $250,000.

PITTSBURGH ENGINEER KILLED IN A WRECK

APOLLO, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—As the result of an engineer's mistake in looking at his watch a wreck happened in which the engineer lost his life on the West Penn railroad today. Engineer A. E. Bennett was coming west with an extra freight train and engine No. 661 was pulling a cattle train east. Engineer Bennett had orders to let the other train pass him at Roaring Run, east of Apollo but on looking at his watch he thought he had 19 minutes in which to run to Apollo, while he had only nine minutes. As a result a head-on collision resulted. Two cattle cars were totally demolished and 36 head of cattle killed. Bennett lived at 7147 Mount Vernon street, Pittsburgh, and his body was sent to Pittsburgh on an early train.

ASK TO BE RETIRED IN ADVANCED GRADE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Col. George C. Reid, adjutant, and other officers in the rank of colonel who saw civil war service have asked Secretary Moody that there be thrown open to the marine corps as well as to the navy the right for an officer to retire with advance rank of one grade, provided he fought in the civil war and served 40 years consecutively. Secretary Moody has laid the case before President Roosevelt.

Rolling Mill Resumes Work.

CANTON, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Stark rolling mill opened this morning to operate without any observance of the Amalgamated scale which the company signed some time ago. The Stark management claims that 75 of the former employes have deserted the union and have returned to work. The fight arose over the limit output clause which the rolling mill people refused to obey as it was claimed that in several instances the Amalgamated Association has abolished this clause.

No Wabash Stock Yard.

Reports that the Wabash interests have purchased a site of 185 acres in McKees Rocks for stock yards have been in circulation recently at the Herrs Island stock yards. The reports, however, are laughed at by President J. W. Patterson of the Wabash extension. "We could not well reach yards at McKees Rocks," he said. "Our tracks are in another location. No attention whatsoever has been paid to the matter of stock yards as yet. We have been so busy building the road in here that there has been no time to think of other plans."

Experiments in Wireless Telegraphy.

Demonstrations of the workings of wireless telegraphy took place in the Farmers bank building yesterday under the direction of Isaac Van Etten, operator for the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. The demonstration took place in the offices of F. P. Ward & Co., who are receiving subscriptions for the stock. Sending and receiving instruments in adjoining rooms, separated by thick walls, showed that the electrical waves penetrated all obstructions.

Oil Can Exploded, Burning a Woman.

Mrs. M. Balph went to light her oil stove yesterday afternoon, and either the tank or the oil can exploded and threw burning oil over her breast, arms and face. She was removed from her home, No. 2218 Osgood street, Allegheny, to the Allegheny General hospital, where it is said her condition is critical.

PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME.

A Letter From Congressman White, of North Carolina.

PERUNA is a great family medicine. The women praise it as well as the men.

It is just the thing for the many little catarrhal ailments of childhood.

The following testimonials from thankful men and women tell in direct, sincere language what their success has been in the use of Peruna in their families:

Louis J. Scherrinsky, 103 Locust St., Atlantic, Iowa, writes:

"I will tell you briefly what Peruna has done for me. I took a severe cold which gave me a hard cough. All doctors' medicines failed to cure it. I took one bottle of Peruna and was well.

"Then my two children had bad coughs accompanied by gagging. My wife had stomach trouble for years. She took Peruna and now she is well.

"I cannot express my thanks in words, but I recommend your remedy at every opportunity, for I can conscientiously say that there is no medicine like Peruna. Nearly everyone in this town knew about the sickness of myself and family, and they have seen with astonishment what Peruna has done for us. Many followed our example, and the result was health. Thanking you heartily, I am."—L. J. Scherrinsky.

Peruna protects the family against coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis, catarrh of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is just as sure to cure a case of catarrh of the bowels as it is a case of catarrh of the head.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Congressman George H. White, of Tarboro, N. C., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman:

"I am more that satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."

Very respectfully,
George H. White.

Once used in the family Peruna always stays. It is an internal, scientific, systemic remedy for catarrh and all catarrhal diseases.

HIS LOYALTY IS BEING TESTED

Wyman Hard-Pushed to Inspire Pittsburgh Citizens Leaders With Confidence.

CITY EMPLOYES SIGN PLEDGES

But One of Them Refuses and the Scheme Is Exposed—Citizens to Hold Meeting in Allegheny—Banner for North Side Republicans.

The Wyman administration of Allegheny is having a hard time convincing the Pittsburgh headquarters of the Citizens party's machine that it is going to give the right kind of support to the Citizens party ticket this fall. Considerable cash was contributed by the Citizens party's leaders to Allegheny last fall, but in some way or other only a small part of the money went to the headquarters, where it should have gone. Instead, Charles W. Sinon, who was then chairman of the Citizens party machine committee, learned that the money sent over, supposedly for his committee, had been intercepted and was probably used in the fight for election made by Wyman some months later.

Friends have told the leaders of the Citizens party that they had better not take the Allegheny administration's word, but should bind it down to definite action in support of the Citizens ticket this fall before putting any money into Allegheny. It is intimated that Mayor Wyman is satisfied with the mayoralty, which is his for more than two years to come, and is not particularly interested in the outcome of the county fight.

Pledges Were Prepared.

Consequently Wyman had to prove his earnestness, and as a step in that direction somebody has prepared a paper containing a pledge to support the county ticket of the Citizens party. Ostensibly, the pledge is a promise supposed to be signed by citizens of Allegheny who are inclined to the Citizens party, but in reality the paper has not been presented to the average man on the street, but has been handed to none but city employes. It pledges the signers to support and vote for the Citizens ticket at the coming election.

Copies of the pledge were passed about among clerks, firemen, policemen and even the street workmen. It might have been circulated without those on the outside being any wiser, had not an imprudent emissary handed the paper to a policeman, off duty, who was in a saloon in Madison avenue. The policeman began to read the pledge aloud. He got as far as "We, the undersigned," and then perused further in silence, but suddenly he cast the paper on the floor and ejaculated: "I'm d—— if I'll sign."

Before the man entrusted with the paper could interfere somebody had picked it up and read enough to show that it was an ironclad pledge to support the Citizens party. The policeman walked out in great anger, whether because he suspected the pledge was to test his loyalty or because he was disgusted with the administration was not learned.

Republicans Organize Districts.

The Allegheny Republicans last night organized the Tenth district of the Second ward and the Sixth district of the Fifth ward. It is expected that the district organizations will be completed by the end of the week. These organizations are supplemental to the regular ward organizations and have no official connection with the city executive committee. They are bodies of young men, many of whom never before have taken an interest in politics. There was a big crowd at the Republican headquarters in East Diamond street last night, and among the visitors were 25 men from one ward who worked and voted for Wyman last February.

The executive committee of the Citizens city committee of Allegheny, composed of the 15 ward chairmen, met last night in the Kenyon hall headquarters. A report of the meeting was made by Richard H. Jackson, chairman of the city committee, who said:

"A poll of a number of wards was reported, showing Citizens party gains. The defections from the party are exceedingly few, not so many as was anticipated before the poll was made. In many sections of the city there are no defections. The executive committee decided that the opening meeting of the campaign shall be held in Carnegie hall on Saturday, October 10. The chairman and the names of the speakers have not yet been decided upon. The plan of campaign will include numbers of public meetings in all the wards."

Joseph H. May of Allegheny has ordered a beautiful silk banner made, to be presented to the election district showing at the next election the greatest percentage of Republican gains over the election of 1902. The banner will be of blue silk, bearing a picture of President Roosevelt and inscriptions in gold. The side of the banner with the picture will contain the inscription: "The Republican organization of Allegheny City," and the other side will bear the words: "Presented to the banner Republican district of Allegheny by Joseph H. May." The banner will be exhibited at the Carnegie hall meeting Saturday evening.

Charged With Stabbing Father.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Upbraided by his aged father for alleged neglect of his family, George Davis of New Castle, it is alleged, today stabbed the former with a butcher knife, inflicting a wound that will probably prove fatal. The stabbing took place at the home of Hopston Cunningham, one mile south of Wheatland. The son made his escape. The victim of the stabbing is 65 years old and lives in South Sharon.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—Nathan Beckley, son of Samuel Beckley, was found dead in a meadow of his father's dairy farm, near Geistown, by his brother, having accidentally taken an overdose of horse medicine.

AKRON, O.—The Rev. Samuel N. Watson, D. D., of Chillicothe, O., has accepted a call to the pastorate of St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city. The pulpit of St. Paul's has been empty since the resignation of the Rev. James H. W. Blake, over a year ago.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Charles F. Carr, a prominent resident of North Beaver township, was arrested on a charge of felonious assault with intent to murder Charles Brest, a neighbor. Carr was held for trial at the December criminal court. He was unable to furnish bail.

SHARON, PA.—An injunction was issued by court enjoining the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from laying a second track across State street. The injunction was secured by Sharon council because the railroad company would not put the track into the grade of the street.

"A New Woman."

Disease makes many a woman prematurely old. Dark-rimmed eyes, hollow cheeks and wasted form are accompanied by listlessness and loss of ambition. Home duties are a weariness, and social pleasures have no attraction.

One of the commonest expressions of women cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is this: "It has made a new woman of me." There's a world of meaning in the words. It means the sparkle brought back to the eyes; the complexion tinted with the rosy hue of healthy blood; the form rounded out anew in graceful curves; the whole body radiant with health.

Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes new women of those prematurely aged by disease.

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are the best I have ever used," writes Mrs. C. Nelson, of Chemawa, Marion Co., Oregon. "My health was badly run down when I consulted him by letter. My limbs were cold and my head hurt me continually. I was so nervous that the least thing would startle me almost into convulsions. I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I could scarcely walk sometimes. I felt utterly discouraged, but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of Golden Medical Discovery' made a new woman out of me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

We don't believe it's honest to you to write a whole lot of stuff about the "Moderate Price" of a and then not say WHAT the Price is!

If a merchant uses a half column to tell you how "very moderate his prices" are; you naturally look for the Prices. Funny, isn't it, you can't find them—unless its OUR advertisement!

To illustrate:

The KLEBER PIANO is a most wonderful piano, and the price is $375.00.

That's the whole story. But, if we say the Kleber Piano is a wonderful Piano and the price is, oh, so very moderate, then you have a right to suspect the Price is "fixed" only AFTER you are safely within the walls of the store.

IMBIBERS USE FALSE FACES AS SCREENS FROM PUBLIC

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COSHOCTON, O., Sept. 28.—An anti-screen ordinance went into effect in the village of Dresden last Saturday night, and strange are the tales told of its reception. There are four saloons in the village and all did a thriving business in spite of the fact that there was no obstruction to the public gaze.

Strange faces appeared at the bar. Men entering the back doors were supplied with false faces, and, with an enlarged mouth, the masks made an effective covering. Others brought umbrellas and would drink in peace under their sheltering spread of canvas. Business is said to have been more brisk than for many weeks, and the temperance people are aghast, although they are firm in the belief that drinking will be curtailed.

MAD DOG RAN AMUCK IN A PUBLIC SQUARE

SCRANTON, Sept. 28.—Winton Green, principal of the Factoryville High school, and E. Howell Fisk, a citizen of Dalton, were taken to the Pasteur institute, in New York, today to receive treatment. Both men were badly bitten by a dog which was suffering from rabies. The dog ran into the Factoryville High school and began snapping at the scholars. Prof. Green attempted to drive the brute from the room, when it turned upon him. He was terribly bitten, but succeeded in driving the dog from the room without any of the children having been bitten. Prof. Green secured a rifle and killed the animal, but not before it had attacked and lacerated Fisk.

SAYS WIFE WAAS INSANE WHEN THEY WERE MARRIED

AKRON, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—A divorce suit for "equitable relief" was filed in the Summit county court today by Henry Savage, who alleges in his petition that when he married Emma L. Dye, Oct. 15, 1883, she was incurably insane. They have one son, 18 years old. Savage alleges that at the time of the wedding his wife was in no condition to enter into a marriage contract, although he did not know then that she was insane. Two years after the marriage she was committed to the state hospital at Athens, O., where she has since remained.

DOTY GIVES HIS REASONS FOR REJECTING CONTRACT

Westmoreland Judge Says Pittsburgh Firm's Bid Was Not the Lowest.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 28.—Judge Lucien W. Doty made public today his reasons for disapproving the contract with William Miller & Sons of Pittsburgh for the new court house. He says Miller & Sons were not the lowest bidders, claiming that the Thompson-Stewart Company of Philadelphia underbid the Pittsburgh firm for a structure of Concord granite and agreed to complete it in 18 months, while Miller & Sons agreed to have the structure ready for occupancy in 26 months. It is claimed that these considerations entitled the Thompson-Stewart Company to the award.

Judge McConnell says that the objections to the bids do not appear in the contract, for Miller & Sons later agreed to finish the structure in 18 months. Judge McConnell raises objection to this procedure, saying that if it was allowable to negotiate with Miller & Sons relative to the time and completion it was also allowable to negotiate with the Thompson-Stewart Company as to price. It is claimed that the time of completion is just as essential as the bids as to price.

In concluding his opinion Judge Doty says that in the near future the same building may be erected at much less cost because of the shrinkage in values of building materials.

Mirth and Music in Theatres

Alvin—"Mr. Bluebeard."

Pictorial stage art has reached the limit. If the theory that the gratification of the eye is the highest duty of the modern theater be accepted as true, then Klaw & Erlanger should be crowned with all sorts of laurel wreaths. "Mr. Bluebeard," the Americanized Drury Lane pantomime and spectacle, easily overshadows all other attempts at pictorial stage magnificence. But that is all it is. The book is incoherent and conglomerate, the music is even more chaotic, including a little of everything that has come to us in musical comedy, minstrelsy and vaudeville for the past half-dozen years. The comedy never rises to a high level, and some of it is flat, stale and unprofitable; but oh! what a wonderful series of stage pictures is "Bluebeard." These and Eddie Foy's clowning won from a preternaturally grave and sedate audience last night round after round of applause. Foy was never given a better role than Sister Anne, who has been created from the old "Bluebeard" fairy tale as the sister of Fatimah, the promised wife who took liberties with the key. His comic make-up and cast-iron face never served to provoke more merriment than last night when he sang "I Am a Poor, Unhappy Maid," or that other sacrelegious burlesque on the Bard of Avon, "Hamlet Was a Melancholy Dane," in which Ophelia is supposed to die and descend to the lower regions, from which flame and smoke arise, to be followed later by the resuscitated Ophelia in the person of Foy, bearing a banner with the legend, "No More Room. Full Up." In these and and in all his antics Foy provoked laughter. Harry Gilfoil as "Bluebeard" with his interpolated imitations also helped to warm up the chilly audience that with all the display persisted in treating the entertainment with scant enthusiasm. Bonnie Maguire looked lovely with her Dresden china face and danced and sang coon songs to perfection; Adele Rafter, with an almost perfect figure, had one or two fine solos, as did Flora Synott as Fatima; Tony Lambert was excellent as Pat Shaw, and the elephant stunt was intensely amusing.

But the book of "Bluebeard" and the comedy and songs are all subordinate to the magnificence of its scenery, the colorfulness of its immense choruses, the startling beauty of its ballets and the vast armies of girls, girls, girls in dazzling costumes which seemed to change under a fairy's wand as rapidly as the color lights, flashed new prisms upon the dazzling background. The flying ballet, the wonderful Grigolatis troupe, under the direction of Herr Schultz, is one of the most startling as well as beautiful stage effects the Alvin has ever seen, exceeding in novelty and artistic effect the flying ballet of "Beauty and the Beast." In "Bluebeard" the graceful golden-haired Grigolitas premiere flies gracefully from the stage to the upper balcony, scattering carnations as she goes, descending again with the swiftness of a bird on the wing.

This is but the climax to one gorgeous stage picture after another, with the twinkling feet and symmetrical movements of hundreds of shapely girls as a sort of accompaniment. The pictorial theme is the development of the fan from the first plumes plucked from the breasts of fairies to the final apotheosis, when, amid the shifting colors and the sheer of hundreds of glistening costumes the fan is perfected, the swift-winged fairies poised on revolving stars of light capping the panorama. Certainly if it is satisfaction for the sense of sight in artistic stage pictures you are looking for, "Bluebeard" will daze even the wildest anticipation. But this is almost its sole glory. The story of the fairy book is horribly interpolated and frightfully overloaded with extraneous stuff. A crowd of Bowery girls sing a catchy air and do a "tough" dance under the shadow of a castle in Bagdad. There is a jumble of cakewalk and ragtime with oriental girls from the harem in all sorts of places and under all sorts of conditions. It is a regular razzle-dazzle and enough to make your head whirl, but steadily and consistently the pictorial beauty rises from one degree of excellence to another. "Mr. Bluebeard" is a wonder—for the eye.

Avenue—High Class Vaudeville.

There are a half dozen acts at least on the program of the Avenue theater this week that go a long way toward clinching the argument, made by Manager Davis that he is engineering a vaudeville entertainment fit for anybody to see and above the ordinary in point of novelty and refinement. Frank Keenan and Miss Frances Fontaine in a sketch that without being especially clever serves as a medium for very excellent comedy work on the part of both principals. Mr. Keenan is an actor of fine powers of mimicry. He plays a double role in Edward Elsner's little sketch and plays it with well night perfect acting so far as facial contortion goes. The playlet is strenuous in places, but full of laughter. Miss Fontaine deserves to share honors with the star. She is not graceful at first sight, but she puts lots of spirit into her work and stands for a sort of punching bag exercise with a stoicism that is worthy the highest praise. Besides Keenan the Avenue has the celebrated Max Waldron, who does a marvelous transformation act that is a startling novelty. The Vassar Girls present a thoroughly artistic musical act which illustrates beautifully the possibilities of electricity in obtaining stage effects. This act is one of the daintiest we have seen for a long time. Emma Carus is a good natural singer of coon songs and her little "coonlet" made a big hit. The face and voice of that diminutive pickaninnie is worth by themselves more than the price of admission. These are but samples of the really good bill at the Avenue. George Wilson enjoys himself, though he might profitably leave out some of the suggestions. Parros brothers do a startling acrobatic act in evening dress. Bissonnette and Newman, Mortimer Bassett and the cinematograph are among the other acts worthy of mention.

Empire—"The Head Waiters."

Joe Kelly is at the Empire this week. This brief statement alone should be enough to turn the tide of theatergoers to the uptown playhouse. Long, lank, loose-jointed Joe, the wizard pie drawer with his saffron-hued countenance, a voice that squawks and a face that would make a dying dyspeptic envious, it's the same old Joe, with his own unique ideas of what a Pittsburgh audience wants in the way of amusement, and a full quota of new "turns" to make the most doleful stock gambler take a twist in his face to keep up the appearance of sobriety. Of course the house was crowded. The few that did not know that Joe was on the boards, would have been well satisfied with the balance of the performance, which, for want of a better name, is called "The Head Waiters." All sorts of fun is on tap from the first burst of song. A Hebrew entertainer, Nate Jackson, was, perhaps, next to Joe himself, the greatest hit as a merrymaker. Awkward situations and comical dilemmas, queer mixups and burlesques on national character, were put on with a vim that brought down the house. A ladies' band an a military war drama filled out an evening full of keen enjoyment.

Bijou—"Foxy Grandpa."

Joseph Hart and Carrie DeMar with their jolly company came to the Bijou yesterday and at the matinee and evening performances pleased large auriences, duplicating the success of the cartoon musical comedy, "Foxy Grandpa," that last season proved to be such a winner. The company is somewhat changed in personnel. The boys, who get so much fun out of Grandpa are this year played by Harry Plicer and Bobby Harrington, who are quite the equals of their predecessors. The chorus is a large one and comprises a fine group of tall Gibsonesque girls who sing well. Carrie DeMar is bright and piquant and has taken on an extra amount of weight without losing any of her graceful agility. Joseph Hart as Grandpa is funny and makes up the part with absolute fidelity. Hart had a peculiar three-corned voice so far as singing goes, but even this defect adds to the humor of the impersonation. Miss Marie Franklin, who plays the role of Millicent Goodman, is a Pittsburgh girl and proves herself worthy of the connection by doing one of the most pleasing acts of the performance, a song and cake walk dance, with chorus effects entitled "My Clementine." It is bright, artistic and full of harmony. "Foxy Grandpa" is one of the cleverest musical skits that the popular-priced circuit sends out.

Duquesne—Henry Lee and Vaudeville.

The audience at the Duquesne theater last night sat under the spell of many famous men. The people in the orchestra saw the living figure of the ideal Shakespeare, his doublet and starched ruff recalling the quaint costume of Elizabethan days, and just at the moment when everybody became enthused over the fascination of blank verse, the resurrected bard retired, and a moment later appeared as the stern-visaged Prince Bismarck. Again he was the irrepressible Mark Twain and President Roosevelt, but always Henry Lee, who has been truly styled "the great mimic." Mr. Lee heads a fine vaudeville company and his act is an artistic novelty. He gives an intelligent impersonation of the characters he represents and imitates famous men in poise and conversation as well as in facial make-up. In his company is Charles R. Sweet, styled the musical burglar, whose act includes a number of clever novelties. Effie Fay has a repertoire of songs which she sings with striking effect, her powers of imitation approaching that of Mr. Lee. A farce by George H. Emerick, entitled "Too Many Darlings," furnished a good vehicle for the fun-making abilities of Georgia Gardner and Joseph Maddern. The "Three American Musical Stars" also contributed largely to the company's merriment.

Academy—"The Moonlight Maids."

The sprightly "Moonlight Maids" are the attraction at the Academy this week and they delighted two large audiences yesterday afternoon and evening. Patrons who saw the "Maids' last year will remember them as a young and pretty lot and their attractiveness is made stronger by the variety of new costumes. The favorite maid is Marie Rodgers who sings and acts character songs, and who received more applause than an Academy performer has received in a long time. Two other maids, Delome and Cotrely, are called the queens of dexterity and perform clever juggling feats. Of course there are men with the maids and their work is of a high class order. An acrobatic act by Rice and Prevost is positively a side-splitting affair and the German turn by Fields and Wooley is a close second. Frederick Bustners and Burns contribute a good musical set to the olio. The burlesque is much on the farce comedy order with something of a plot, and is in two acts, which open and close the performance.

Seat Sale at the Grand.

The subscription and single seat sale for the opening week at the Grand, beginning next Monday afternoon, will open simultaneously at the box office Thursday morning, October 1st, at 9 a. m., when the order of first come first served will be strictly observed. Not more than eight seats will be sold to one person, and every precaution will be taken to protect the public from ticket speculators. "Notre Dame" will be the opening play and the cast will introduce Mr. Ingersoll and Miss Taylor in the leading roles, supported by the full strength of the company, including several of last year's favorites, together with the new members.

"Winsome Winnie" a Success.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The opening of the season at the Academy of Music tonight was signalized by two distinct novelties, a new and most brilliant romantic musical comedy by Jacobowskle and Paulton, authors of "Ermine," and the initial appearance of Miss Paula Edwardes, a young and most promising comedienne, as a star in the title part.

"The managers of "Winsome Winnie," Messrs. Sam S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman, have treated their new star to most lavish environment. Her singing support is the most brilliant heard in Baltimore for many seasons. The scenic investiture of the piece is entirely adequate, and the costuming is not only lavish but in a subdued, exquisite taste, quite new to musical comedies. Taken all around, the general verdict is that in "Winsome Winnie" and its charming star, Messrs. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman have indeed found a winner.

Seats for "Everyman."

The sale of seats for the morality play, "Everyman," which opens at Carnegie hall Oct. 5th, will begin today at Hamilton's, 545 Fifth avenue. "Everyman," is acted by an English company under the personal direction of Ben Greet, one of the ablest and best known London theatrical managers. In the west this ancient drama has had so great a success that it will again be produced on the Pacific coast in the spring.

WOMAN SHOT IN HEAD; HUSBAND IS IN JAIL.

Wife Liable to Die; Man Is Sorry. Two Probable Murders Among Foreigners.

Basilio Scarramo, an Italian of Bruce station, was locked in the Central police station last night as a suspicious person. His wife, Joan Ena Scarramo is in the Homeopathic hospital with a bullet hole in her head and is likely to die.

Scarrama said he shot his wife in a fit of jealousy, as he objected to her alleged attentions to a boarder. Both husband and wife are 38 years old. Scarramo is a contractor and laments his act, hoping for his wife's recovery.

"THE LIGHT THAT FAILED"

Forbes Robertson and Getrude Elliott Appear in Buffalo in the Kipling Story.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott made their American debut as joint stars under the direction of Klaw & Erlanger, at the Star theater tonight, presenting their recent London success, Constance Fletcher's stage version of Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed." Mr. Robertson, whose ability as an actor is well known in this country, played the exacting role of Dick Heldar with fine discretion and presented a most convincing portrayal of Kipling's creation, himself an artist of distinction, he is especially well equipped by actual experience to portray the role of the unfortunate artist war correspondent. Miss Elliott has developed wonderfully during her four years experience on the London stage and she appeared before her audience an artiste of personal distinction, and power, presenting a most satisfying and effective portrayal of Maisie.

Chicago Had a $200,000 Fire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The factory of the Standard Varnish Company at Twenty-sixth street and Armour avenue was nearly consumed by fire today, entailing a loss estimated at $200,000. The blaze was started by the explosion of a tank of varnish which threw barrels of varnish through the roof. Two large tanks fell to the basement and firemen were compelled to leap from the ladders to escape death from the burning oil and varnish.

Jerome Wants Big Increase.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—District Attorney Jerome today made application to the board of estimates and apportionment for $100,000 for his contingent fund for the ensuing year. Mr. Jerome last year received $50,000. Mr. Jerome said he is reliably informed that the gambling houses in Manhattan are wide open and he wants to get money to go against these places.

OLIVER GOODMAN IS A VERY BAD MAN WITH AN AX

Oliver Goodman, alias "Jack, the Chopper," was arrested yesterday on complaint of William Hante, of No. 118 South Nineteenth street, and locked in No. 7 station house. Hante heard some one beating against the side of his frame house. Looking out the window he saw Goodman industriously chopping into the wall with a hatchet. He ordered the chopper away and when he refused to go Hante telephoned to the police station. Goodman has just been released from the workhouse, where he served a sentence for a similar offense.

Indictments Are Upheld.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The validity of the indictments against ex-Congressman Edmund H. Driggs of Brooklyn and G. F. Miller of New York, agent of the Brandt-Dent Automatic Cashier Company, charging them with participation in the postal frauds, was upheld in a decision handed down today by Judge Thomas in the United States district court.

Gamblers Captured at Homestead.

The Homestead police made a raid on a house at Ann street and Sixth avenue last evening, capturing 46 men at the games on the tables which occupied the entire third floor of a building. All put up forfeits of $10 each.

PENROSE AGAIN IN THE HARNESS

Assumed Control of Republican State Committee's Affairs Yesterday.

PLEASED WITH THE SITUATION

Is Certain Pennsylvania Will Break the Off Year Voting Record at Coming Election—Concise Interview Given on the Outlook.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 28.

Senator Boies Penrose, Republican state chairman, took up his official duties this morning. Chairman Penrose arrived at the state headquarters in Locust street at 9 o'clock and immediately began consideration of an accumulated mail, the most important features of which Secretary W. R. Andrews submitted for his attention. But the chairman was not free from interruption.

County chairmen and politicians of prominence from all parts of the state kept dropping in to pay their respects, and to get a line on the situation. Mr. Penrose informed all that for the next few days he would have to be a listener as his absence had kept him from being in touch with the developments of the past two months. Late this afternoon the chairman, having disposed of the more important mail, gave this statement for publication:

"I have thoroughly gone over the reports of the chairmen from all counties of the state and find them unexpectedly gratifying. I believe it is the first time since I came into close touch with political activity that there has been such an absence of disaffection and discord within the ranks of the Republican party. The reports received by Secretary Andrews during my absence are not only favorable, but indicate that with unanimity the Republicans of Pennsylvania are satisfied with the platform of the last state convention, and with the ticket by declamation selected by that body.

"This is an off year in state politics, but I do not look for the small vote which usually characterizes off years. The people seem to be deeply sensible of the fact that Pennsylvania, more than any other of its sister commonwealths, has a vital interest in upholding the national administration, which has produced through its wise and conservative policies a prosperity unparalleled and unprecedented. Careful examination of the subject of so-called "state issues" convinces me that there are none. The only state issue of material interest is that the Republicans are in control, that the Democrats d sire to control. It is purely a party matter a matter of men and not of principles. Having established this practical view point, it appear safe to say that the people, the manufacturers, the workingmen will look to the future, and those more important considerations which make for their mutual welfare.

"Pennsylvania, it should be remembered, was the first state to record its unqualified indorsement of Roosevelt, of Roosevelt the man, and of the principles which he embodies. In the last national convention here the Pennsylvania delegation, directed by Senator Quay, formed the part of the wedge which brought confusion to his opponents, and forced his nomination for the vice presidency. The death of President McKinley exalted him still higher, and since assuming control of the national administration, Mr. Roosevelt, with fidelity and zeal, has carried out those statesmanlike, masterful, patriotic policies which placed William McKinley among foremost in the hearts of the American people.

"Genuine Republicans are neither forgetful of the past, nor neglectful of the future, and the inequity of our party this fall will emphasize their confidence and desire for the maintenance of this era of national prosperity. In a half dozen or more counties there are judicial contests of strenuous character. My advices are that, without exception, the Republicans will show an unusual majority of the votes cast in November. As to the question of meetings, these will be only held in those counties where chairmen believe they are necessary, and in such instances the state speakers' bureau, now fully organized, will supply oratorical talent of high degree.

"From now until election I shall remain personally at headquarters, keeping in touch with the situation, and do all in my power to increase the off-year Republican majority."

Capt. James M. Clark of New Castle was today appointed treasurer of the Republican state committee by Chairman Penrose. Mr. Clark has been acting as executive clerk. The following are among the more important visitors at headquarters today: the Hon. W. P. Snyder, candidate for auditor general; the Hon. Henry P. Walton, the Hon. E. Ere, West Chester, Pa.; the Hon. Elias Deemer, congressman, Williamsport, Pa.; the Hon. W. E. Meehan, commissioner of fisheries, Harrisburg; the Hon. Irving P. Wanger, congressman, Norristown, Pa.; Gen. T. H. Bingham, Philadelphia; Gen. J. W. Latta, the Hon. George H. Higgins, Erie; the Hon. John H. Landis, superintendent United States mint, Philadelphia; the Hon. J. C. Grady, state senator, Philadelphia; Lee M. Bandy, New Castle.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the County Commissioners association of Pennsylvania began to arrive at the headquarters in the Seventh avenue hotel last night. About 25 of the 200 members reached the city yesterday afternoon and evening. Among the arrivals were L. J. Kirk of Lancaster and J. E. Shields of Loretto. The meeting will be held in the supreme court room in the county court house tomorrow.

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE BY INDIANS

Accuse Dawes Commission of Trying to Defraud Them of Their Lands.

THEY ASK $1,000,000 DAMAGES

Delewares Assert That After Their Lands Had Been Segregated Illegal Allotments Have Been Made to Others Than Delawares.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Justice Anderson of the supreme court of the district of Columbia rendered an opinion today in the injunction proceedings of the Delaware Indians against Secretary Hitchcock and the Dawes Indian commission, dissolving the temporary injunction heretofore granted.

The case involved the right of the secretary to pass on the 157,000 acres of land in the Cherokee nation segregated for the use of the Delawares. The Indians claimed that the secretary is without authority to approve or disapprove of the segregation, as it had been approved by the Indians interested, and asked that he be enjoined against taking such action pending the adjudication of the same question by the court of claims. Soon after the case was filed the court granted a temporary injunction, but Judge Anderson today dissolved it.

As soon as the decision was rendered Attorney Walter S. Logan filed a petition to the circuit court of claims on behalf of the Delawares against the United States, asking that damages be awarded in the sum of $1,000,000 because of the expenses to which the Indians have been subjected because of the necessity of defending title to their lands. In this petition they make some sensational statements. One of these accusations is to the effect that members of the Dawes commission are interested in oil leases and companies holding leases made upon their lands by Cherokees claiming title. Mentioning the members of the commission by name, the petition alleges that, notwithstanding the lands have been properly segregated, the Dawes commission, disregarding their official duties as agents of the United States towards your petitioners, have conspired and confederated, and are conspiring and confederating together, with the said companies, to cheat and defraud your petitioners, so as to gain possession of their lands for themselves or for their said companies under pretense of allotting said lands in their official capacity as said Dawes commission to divers persons who are willing to enter into contracts of lease and sale with representatives of said trust and land companies, in which the members of said Dawes commission are interested. Said Dawes commission and the members thereof have thus wrongfully allowed, and after the making of said segregation, as hereinbefore referred to, continue to allow, filings to be made upon parts of the lands of your petitioners so segregated as aforesaid and over which said commission has ceased legally to have any further jurisdiction or control, but as wrongfully assuming the same, and said Dawes commission and the members thereof has thus wrongfully, after said segregation was made, allowed more than 200 Indian persons, not Delawares, to make selections for homes upon parts of the said Delaware lands so segregated as aforesaid, and have allowed such persons to file application for allotments thereon, and have sought, by recommendations contained in their report of April 20, 1903, to the secretary of the interior, to cause steps to be taken to prevent the supreme court of the United States from rendering such judgment in the cause now pending therein as would confirm in your petitioners the title to said 157,600 acres, so segregated as aforesaid.

The secretary of the interior is charged with unlawful acts to defraud the Indians, such as that of segregating white men who have married squaw wives to make claim to Delaware lands.

TROLLEY CAR STRUCK AND KILLED AN UNKNOWN

Wife's Search Ends in Finding Her Husband Dead—Victim of Railroad.

A trolley car struck and instantly killed a man in the Butler Plank road near the Rising Sun hotel, between Millvale and Etna, yesterday morning about 2:30. The man had nothing on that would identify him, although there were found in his pockets a check on which was stamped, "Dimling, 20 cents," and a business card of the H. K. Porter Locomotive works. The man was aged about 40 years, had dark hair and gray eyes and weighed about 185 pounds. His coat and vest were black, his trousers were striped and his shirt was blue.

A westbound freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad struck and killed William Winebruner of New Florence, Pa., at Swissvale Sunday night.

Harry Davis, a mill worker of Martins Ferry, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday of typhoid fever. He had been working in Waynesburg, from where he was sent to the hospital. Sunday his wife was notified of his illness in this city, but the message did not indicate in which hospital he was. She came to the city and after a tour among several hospitals she located her husband, who was dead when she found him.

Frank Strauss, aged 41, an employe of the McKeesport tube works, died suddenly last evening, and his death will be investigated by the coroner. Strauss boarded at No 1415 High street, McKeesport, with Mrs. Frank Kuhn. He had been sick with dropsy for the last three months, and for three weeks had refused the services of a doctor, preparing his own medicine. No signs of poison were discernible after an investigation and death may have been due to heart failure. Three undertakers refused to bury the man, each alleging he was too busy. Strauss is survived by a son, Albert, and a daughter, Edith. His widow died several years ago.

CLERK TAKES $3,000,000 TO NEW YORK IN SUIT CASE

3,000 New $1,000 Bills Safely Transported from Washington to Gotham at Cost of Only $20 to Government.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Marion E. Beall, an unbonded clerk in the bureau of insular affairs, who received a salary of $1,800 a year, carried $3,000,000 of government cash in a suit case from Washington to New York the other day. Naturally the officials did not tell about Beall's journey before he made it. Beall, whose home is at Fort Wayne, traveled with the $3,000,000 alone and unguarded. Under the direction of the insular department, the mints in this country and the bureau of printing and engraving here have been making money this summer for use in the Philippines. To Mr. Beall was given the duty of overseeing the shipment of the money to the island possessions. The bureau of printing and engraving turned out $3,000,000 in crisp $1,000 bills. The insular department wanted to get the money to New York. Beall went around to see the express companies about transporting the treasure.

"Eight hundred dollars," said each of the companies.

"That's too much," said Col. Edwards, chief of the insular bureau, when Beall reported how much the express companies wanted. "It is not worth it."

"What's the matter with you putting the money in a suit case and taking it up yourself?" asked Col. Edwards.

"Why, sure, I can take it if you are willing to trust me with it," said Beall.

The arrangement was made. When the treasury department opened in the morning Beall was on hand with his suit case and an order for the 3,000 $1,000 bills. He receipted for the money and with the dress suit case in one hand and an umbrella in the other left for New York on the 10 o'clock train. The train did not reach New York until after banking hours, but a telegram was sent from the bureau of insular affairs asking the bank to keep open and be on the lookout for the messenger.

A little after 5 o'clock Beall passed the treasure suit case over the counter of the bank. The 3,000 $1,000 bills were counted and a receipt for $3,000,000 passed out to Beall. It cost Beall $20 to make the trip and the net saving to the government was $780.

CHARGES ARE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Dispute Among Painters Will Be Taken Up by General Executive Board.

MEETING HELD THURSDAY

District Council May Be Dissolved and Another One Formed Which Will Be Limited to the Number of Delegates Who Are Eligible.

The district council of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers will probably be dissolved and another council formed to take its place. This will be the result of the dispute between local No. 109 of Allegheny and the district council. The Allegheny members declare the district council is guilty of negligence and the matter will be investigated Thursday evening. George F. Hedrick, first general vice president of the brotherhood, arrived in the city yesterday to conduct the investigation.

The trouble has been hanging fire for several months, but not until three months ago did it assume a serious nature. The Allegheny local filed charges against the district, but they were ignored. This led the Allegheny council to withdraw from the district, and as the district is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, it had to leave that organization.

George F. Hedrick,
First General Vice President of Painters.

This action resulted in the matter being taken up by the executive board of the brotherhood, and M. P. Carrick, general secretary-treasurer, was sent to Pittsburgh to bring about a settlement. He found some of the charges made by the Allegheny local to bear resemblance of truth.

After making a thorough investigation he considered it best that the Allegheny local withdraw its resignation with the district council, which it did. This was done with the understanding that the board make a formal investigation and bring about a condition whereby the Allegheny members could get fair treatment. Mr. Carrick's report to the board resulted in a decision that another investigation be made, with representatives from both sides in attendance.

It is thought that Mr. Hedrick will suggest a reorganization of the council, restricting the number of delegates. At present any local of 50 members or under is entitled to three delegates, and for each 50 or over the half hundred one more delegate. Consequently the largest local controls the district council, and makes it impossible for the Allegheny local to get rights.

The plan as outlined by Mr. Hedrick is for each local of 100 members or less to have two delegates and for each 100 additional one delegate. This will restrict the council from 75 to 50 members, while now over 75 delegates attend the meetings.

If Mr. Hedrick's plans carries the present council will be dissolved so that the present delegates can be retired. The council has appointed a special committee to draw up a set of by-laws and constitution for the creation of a sick and death fund. The committee met yesterday, but did not complete its work.

LARGE STORES TO CLOSE SATURDAY EVENINGS

Kaufmann's Are to Inaugurate the Move, and Others Are to Follow Suit.

Kaufmann Brothers intend to close their store on Saturday evenings at 6:30 o'clock and they will be followed by proprietors of other downtown stores in the movement. This action will revolutionize the shopping business of Pittsburgh and will be put into effect Saturday evening, October 17. Heretofore Saturday night has been one of the busiest nights—in fact the busiest time of the entire week in Kaufmann's store—but with the co-operation of their customers, they hope to lessen the working days of their employes and at the same time look after the wants of the thousands who patronize the various departments daily.

On Friday evening Kaufmann's store was closed an hour earlier than usual—at 5 o'clock—and all of the employes were requested to meet with the management and discuss the "shorter hour" question. Then it was announced that after October 19, during the winter season, the store would close promptly at 5:30, instead of 6 o'clock through the week, and at 6:30 on Saturday evenings. The three and a half hours between 6:30 and 10 o'clock, it was stated, are the busiest of the entire week in the store, but in order to give their employes a rest on Saturday evening, Messrs. Kaufmann are satisfied to close at 6:30. At no time during the year will the store be open in the evening at 6:30 except the week before Christmas. During the hot season—July and August—the store will be closed at 5 o'clock.

Each employe will be granted every legal holiday on pay, besides two days off during the summer on pay.

Kaufmann Bros. are trying to make an eight-hour day. Figuring in the time the employes receive pay while off duty, they have attained this end. The women employes report for duty twenty minutes later than the men, thus working on an average of eight hours a day, while the men work eight and a third hours.

Several other of the large downtown stores will follow the move made by Kaufmann's, and before long the "big Saturday night" downtown will be history. Pittsburgh on a Saturday night presents a scene now which is seldom equaled in any other city in the country. Thousands flock down town, the majority of them to do shopping and marketing, whereas, it is argued, they can just as well do this in the afternoon. This is the view taken of the matter by the Kaufmanns and they argue that with the co-operation of their patrons, the change can be made and that the customers will do their buying earlier in the day.

At the meeting on Friday afternoon the clerks were enthusiastic and decided to take advantage of the first off Saturday night in years, October 17, to attend one of the theaters in a body. As there are about 1,500 employes in the store, they will virtually own the play house for the evening.

YOUNG WOMAN WITH A GUN CAUSED A BAD TRIO TO FLEE

What is thought to have been a bold attempt to rob the office of the Pennsylvania Water company, in Turtle Creek, yesterday was frustrated by Miss Margaret Markle, the company's head bookkeeper. She was alone in the office, shortly after noon, when three colored men entered the place and after asking several questions attempted to go behind the counter, asking at the same time where the money was kept. Miss Markle drew a revolver from her desk and pointed it at the men, whereupon they fled and boarded a freight train.

CHRISTIANS ARE IN MORTAL TERROR

Correspondent Describes Conditions at Beirut During Recent Massacres.

WARSHIPS SAVE FOREIGNERS

Arrival of American Fleet Prevented Turks from Murdering Others Than Native Christians—The Latter Cannot Understand Admiral Cotton's Action.

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

BEIRUT, SYRIA, Tuesday, Sept. 8.—As this dispatch is mailed the situation at Beirut remains unchanged, there being a great feeling of uncertainty.

The correspondent of the Associated Press called on board the United States cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco yesterday and found them armed camps. The blue jackets and marines were in readiness to land at a moment's notice, ammunition filled their belts, and arms were stacked on deck. Rear Admiral Cotton informed the correspondent that he was prepared to give Americans and Europeans in general the fullest protection possible.

Fortunately the fanaticism of the people has not yet gone so far beyond bounds as to cause them to attack foreigners, but business is at a standstill, the streets are deserted and the shops are closed.

Guards to watch the American mission property here were furnished by the Turkish government last night. Had the governor refused, Admiral Cotton stood prepared to land 500 men if necessary. The American ships played their searchlights on the city, illuminating not only the property of the Syrian Protestant college, but also dark alleys and byways frequented as a rule by shady characters.

When the Trouble Began.

The disturbances here began on the night of Friday, September 4. A murder was committed at Beirut which was by no means an unusual thing; but, in this instance, a native Christian killed a Moslem. The next morning the Christians in the community became much wrought up over the affair and a genuine fight prevailed.

"Now the Moslems will go out tonight," they said, "and five christians will die for the Moslem that is slain."

On Saturday night and on the Sunday following there was an uprising against the Christians in different parts of the city. But not only five were killed; 30 persons were massacred in one quarter and a reign of terror was inaugurated throughout the whole city.

A visit to the scene of the greatest slaughter found a Turkish officer dead on the ground, another with blood streaming from a wound in his head, while in the homes of the neighborhood victims lay dead or writhing in agony. On Sunday morning a church was attacked in the same neighborhood while service was in progress, but no one was killed.

Panic-stricken the Christians fled from the city, or remained in their homes behind barricaded doors, while Moslems, armed with clubs, revolvers and knives, paraded the streets and fell on any chance victim that came in their way.

Business Suspended.

Monday found the situation no better. All day stores remained closed, the streets were deserted and business came to a complete standstill. People remained at home, a few store fronts out and one or two who did so were knifed for their temerity.

The foreign residents had not at first felt any great personal danger but the attempt to assassinate the American Vice Consul, Mr. Magassen, followed by an attempt on Saturday last of an armed Moslem, with two accomplices, to force an entrance into the home of an American resident, were incidents not calculated to give anyone too great a sense of security, and the arrival of the American cruisers in the midst of these troubles brought great relief, especially to the foreign residents of the city.

It is difficult for the native Christian to understand why his people are permitted to be put to death, when a shot or two from the cruisers lying in the harbor and representing a Christian nation, strong and mighty, might settle the whole question. He does not stop to reason about international law, the rights of other nations, and the policies of conservative governments. He only knows that his people are dying and that here at hand are the means which might save them from death.

Hoping for Reforms.

Those who are interested in the welfare of Syria are indeed hoping that some political reforms may be introduced at Beirut, and that they will bring new hope and larger life to its people. When, after the massacre of 1860, the Lebanon district was made a province with an autonomous government and a Christian governor, whose appointment had to be ratified by the powers, Beirut was not included within that province. Thus, Beirut, a Christian city, is ruled by the Turks.

While the Moslem element in the city are not Turks they are adherents of the sultan's religion and loyal to his government in principle. Hence they receive the support of the government in a large measure in all religious controversies and political disagreements.

Not long ago the Associated Press correspondent made a trip through the Lebanon district. He drove over splendid roadways and through cleanly villages and looked into the faces of a happy people. Everywhere he beheld evidences of thrift and good government. But he noticed the absence of many young men from the villages.

"Where are the young men?" he asked.

"They have gone to America," was the reply.

And not only the young men but many families had gone to America also. Some had gone and come back and told marvelous tales of the new world and its opportunities. Wherever the correspondent went there was scarcely a family, it seemed, that did not have a representative in that new world.

WALL FELL, KILLING A MAN

Companion Was Badly Hurt. Unknown Fell from Wall and Was Severely Injured.

Michael Koma, a Slav, aged 26, of No. 825 Carson street, was killed, and John Creshon was badly hurt by the falling of a brick wall that is being built alongside the coke ovens of the Jones & Laughlin company in Second avenue. The wall was three feet thick and eight feet high, and the men were sitting beside it eating dinner at noon yesterday when it tumbled over.

An unknown man, about 45 years old, fell from the 13-foot retaining wall at Liberty avenue and Twentieth street, last night, and was seriously injured. He was taken unconscious to the West Penn hospital. Several ribs were broken and he was injured internally. There was a letter found in his pocked addressed to E. R. Daschfinder & Co., Brookville, Pa. He was well dressed, has a heavy dark mustache and weighs about 175 pounds.

Trautmann Named for Sheriff.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Republican county committee tonight nominated Ralph Trautmann for sheriff of New York county. The convention also indorsed the action of the Republican city convention in renominating Mayor Low, Comptroller Grout and President Fornes of the board of aldermen.

Borough Hospital for Wilkinsburg.

The Wilkinsburg borough council last night passed resolutions providing for the purchase of a plot of ground 80 by 132 in Fairmount avenue for $1,200 from A. P. Gillespie. On the plot will be erected a borough hospital, 24 by 40 feet, to cost $2,000, containing six rooms with bath, dining room and kitchen.

We've set a new record for handkerchief selling

A LINEN handkerchief in a dry goods store is as staple an article as sugar is in a grocery. Our buyer gave expression to his opinion of this sale in these words: "15c all-linen handkerchiefs selling at 5c is about as startling a condition of affairs as 'twould be if it rained up."

It was a very strategic move on our part when we purchased a large surplus stock of plain linen from an importer at a marvelously low price—we then went to a handkerchief manufacturer and contracted with him for the making of this linen into plain hemstitched handkerchiefs. This sale is the result. Every thread in these handkerchiefs is pure linen—hems from 1/8 to 1/2 wide. If we bought the goods in the regular way we couldn't sell them for less than 10c or 15c—take your choice today for 10c and 15c all-linen hd'kfs for only 5c

PIRATES START FOR BIG SERIES

Fifteen Players and Not a Substitute in Case Any of the Regulars Are Injured.

FRED CLARKE IS VERY HOPEFUL

The three-time champions of the National league, headed by their aggressive leader, Fred Clarke, left last night for Buffalo, where an exhibition game will be played today, and from there the team will proceed direct to Boston, where the opening games of the world's championship series are scheduled to be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Pirate party of last night was made up of 12 players, but three more will be added at Buffalo today, when Leach, Smith and Sebring, who have been at their homes for a few days, report. The players are: Outfielders Clarke, Beaumont and Sebring; Infielders Bransfield, Ritchey, Leach and Wagner; Pitchers Phillippe, Leever, Kennedy, Veil and Thompson; Catchers Pheips, Smith and Carlisch. It will be seen that the list contains only the names of regulars and that there are no substitute infielders or outfielders, and this will tell against the Pirates should any of the regulars be injured. Kruger, the only substitute who could be called on under the agreement, has not sufficiently recovered from his recent injury to accompany the team on the trip.

Manager Clarke said last night that in case any of the infielders are injured he will shift and cover the position himself and send Kennedy to the outfield; and that while "Rowdy Bill" might not be the best outfielders in the business, he knew how to slug the ball, and his hitting would offset any shortcomings in the fielding line. Clarke, however, was hopeful that none of his players would be injured, as they have promised to be very careful in their play. The team will reach Boston on Wednesday and the players will have a full day of rest before the start of the world's championship series. Secretary Locke, Assistant Secretary Smith and Trainer Edward Latorre accompanied the team. There was quite a large delegation of admirers at the depot to bid the boys goodby and good luck.

President Dreyfuss did not go with the team last night, but will leave this evening and will have as companions a large delegation of Pittsburghers, among them many prominent business men who are anxious to see the opening games in Boston. This delegation now to the Hub with pockets filled with cash and will back the Pirates to the limit. President Dreyfuss said last night that he will be satisfied if the team wins one of the three games in Boston, but he hoped for even better than that. Manager Clarke was not as outspoken as the club owner and refused to make any predictions as to the number of games he hoped to win. "We are going after all the games, but I don't care to count chickens before they are hatched. The players are in good shape and can be depended on to give a good account of themselves. Leever was complaining last week of his arm, but the schoolmaster is in fine shape now."

It is probable that the pitchers in the opening game will be Phillippe for Pittsburgh and Young for Boston.

GARDNER AFTER FITZ.

Threatens All Sorts of Things to the Ex-Champion.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—George Gardner declared today that he would post his forfeit of $2,500 for a battle with Bob Fitzsimmons within the next ten days, and that if the Cornishman failed to cover the amount he would brand Bob as a coward from one end of America to the other.

"Bob has been calling me a four-flusher and a lot of other things that don't sound well," said George. "Now he has practically agreed to meet me, the last week of November, and I don't see how he can get out of it without making himself extremely ridiculous.

"The agreement calls for us to post our forfeits not later than October 15. My $2,500 will be on well before the expiration of the time if Bob is anxious enough in putting up his forfeit I will leave immediately for California and go into training.

"Bob Fitzsimmons I know is a good, clever man, but he's too old to rough through the battle that I will give him."

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Ruhlin and Carter Went Six Hard Rounds.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 28.—"Kid" Carter and "Gus" Ruhlin fought a hard six-round draw bout tonight at the Washington Sporting club. Carter was the aggressor in five of the six rounds, but Ruhlin evened matters up by giving the most punishment.

In the fourth round Carter was sent to the floor and took the count, and in the sixth round Carter struck Ruhlin a stinging blow which cut the latter under the right eye. Ruhlin weighed 194½ pounds and Carter 171½.

Will Play for Cash.

VANDERGRIFT, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Manager Barrett of the Vandergrift A. A. and Manager Gallagher of the strong Apollo Elk team met here today and deposited $100 each for a game between their respective teams next Saturday on the Apollo grounds. The winner also takes the entire gate receipts. Both are strong teams, and a battle royal may be looked for.

Rovers Win First Game.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Rovers won from the Oaklands, two local teams, today 5 to 0, in the opening football game of the season, played in West Side park.

BOWMAN JOINS YALE SQUAD AND PLAYS FOOTBALL

Princeton Shows Improvement, Caruthers Especially Doing Well at Tackle on 'Varsity.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 28.—Bowman, Yale's veteran fullback, joined the football squad in active work today. The 'varsity was given the ball at mid-field and scored without losing the ball, using only line plunges and a couple of end runs when the 25-yard line was reached. At that point tackles back plays were used. New coaches here are Phil Sullman and W. H. Corbin. They are here to select the center rush.

The 'varsity line up: Rafferty, left end; Kinney, left tackle; Norton, left guard; Rorabach, center; Bloomer, right guard; Hogan, right tackle; Shevlin, right end; Rockwell, quarterback; Owsley, left half back; Metcalf, right half back; Bowman, full back.

The Yale football management has sent invitations to the Spanish war veterans who are here in national convention to attend the Yale-Tufts football game on Wednesday.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Tigers continued to show improvement in this afternoon's practice. Although the scrub was strengthened by such men as Barney, Cooney and Daub, the 'varsity had little difficulty in pounding their line for gains of 15 yards. All caught the spirit of the game and entered the plays with vigor. The quarter back kick was tried with great success. The ball was caught up by Davis, who, after a run of 60 yards, made possible by excellent interference, scored a touchdown. The next sensation came immediately after when on the kick-off Capt. Dewitt advanced the ball 50 yards through the entire scrub. There was only one case of fumbling this afternoon.

During the course of the practice several new men were tried out. Caruthers was played on the 'varsity at tackle and showed himself to be of the right material. Baker and Whalen were also tried in this position. Miller did well at full back. Brown, who has entered the sophomore class from the University of Michigan, played guard on the 'varsity for the first time.

DICK WELLES A WINNER.

Scares All Others but Delagoa Out of Speed Stakes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Dick Welles won the Speed stakes at Harlem today in a common canter a length in front of Delagoa. Emma A. M., an added starter, was third. There were only three starters. So far as the race was concerned it was practically featureless, as Dick Welles was a 1 to 5 favorite. The presence of the fast colt scared all the others out of the race but Delagoa. Then Emma A. M. was added for third money. Dick Welles never left the result in doubt. He broke in front, took a lead of three lengths in the first eighth, which he held until near the finish when Delogoa closed up a bit. Weather cloudy and cool. Track heavy. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Bay Wonder, 98, Ferrell, 16 to 5, won; Rag Tag, 105, Otis, 5 to 1, second; Stem Winder, 96, L. Wilson, 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:15 2-5.

Second race, steeplechase, short course—Mr. Rose, 135, McMahon, 3 to 1, won; Ceylon, 153, O'Brien, 13 to 5, second; John E. Owens, 125, C. Johnson, 6 to 1, third. Time, 5:31 1-5.

Fifth race, one mile, Chicago Centennial—Dr. Stephens, 102, Irvine, 20 to 1, won; Six Shooter, 110, Knight, 11 to 10, second; By Ways, 91, Wilson, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 3-5.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles—Lady Matchless, 95, Ferrell, 5 to 1, won; Rabunta, 96, Spencer, 8 to 1, second; Piracer, 104, Otis, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:49 1-5.

ACCIDENTS IN GAME.

Conroy Spiked and the Umpire Was Injured.

NEW YORK, September 28.—Manager Griffith put in a busy batting today against Detroit, and while Quick lasted only two innings, Bliss, who took his place, was effective, and the locals won. The absence of Elberfeld and the spiking of Conroy by Tenehill by Kruger, the only substitute who could be called on under the agreement, has not sufficiently recovered from his recent injury to accompany the team on the trip.

Manager Clarke said last night that in case any of the infielders are injured he will shift and cover the position himself and send Kennedy to the outfield; and that while "Rowdy Bill" might not be the best outfielders in the business, he knew how to slug the ball, and his hitting would offset any shortcomings in the fielding line. ### FEATHER WEIGHTS FIT FOR TONIGHT'S BATTLE

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Benny Yanger underwent a searching examination today preliminary to his battle tomorrow night with Eddie Hanlon. At the close of the examination the medical man pronounced "The Slasher" as fit as a fiddle. Benny himself declared that he never felt better in his life. Hanlon remains a slight favorite in the betting. Jim Corbett declares that Yanger will meet his first defeat tomorrow night. Hanlon looks as fit as Yanger.

TWO FOR CHICAGO.

Senators Dropped Final Games of the Season.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Washington and Chicago brought the season to a close here today with a double header, which resulted in two victories for the visitors. Washington by fluky batting scored five runs in the opening inning of the first game, but later by poor work in the field permitted the visitors to win the game. Loose fielding in the second and some good batting by Chicago gave the visitors the second game. Scores:

American Champions Beat the Browns Twice.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The champions concluded the regular schedule today with a double victory over St. Louis, shutting the visitors out in the second game. The first game was marred by clumsy fielding, but was close enough to be interesting. The visitors played listlessly in the second game and could do nothing with Dineen's pitching. The errors of Bowcock and Shannon were costly and Sudhoff was batted freely. Scores:

ETHEL'S PRIDE CAPTURES THE HORSE REVIEW STAKE

Dr. McCoy's Mare Takes Event in Straight Heats at Opening of Oakley Park.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—The grand circuit meeting opened at Oakley park this afternoon under very favorable auspices. The weather was superb and the track moderately fast. The attendance numbered about 3,000. The betting ring was "open" and six books in addition to the auctions, did a fair business. The sport was first-class, though five events which made up the card, were decided in straight heats. Four favorites won.

For the Horse Review's ninth purse of $5,000 for 3-year-old trotters, the choice was Dr. J. C. McCoy's Ethels Pride and she won in straight heats. Fred Hyde was carded to drive her, but after they had scored down a time or two he resigned his seat to Scott Hudson. D. C. Palmeter's Barongale, under the clever handling of Chandler, trotted three steady heats, but while close up at all times, did not have the speed to pass Ethels Pride.

The 2:11 trot was much of a surprise. The choice was naturally the Michigan gelding, McKinley, which at Columbus trotted the three fastest heats of the year. He sold for $25 against $10 for the field. The race was won by Dr. Strong.

The Queen City purse of $2,000, for trotters of the 2:19 class, went to the favorite, Jay McGregor, in three straight heats.

Dan Patch was out for work during the afternoon and did a mile in 2:08, the last half in one minute flat. Last quarter in 29 seconds. Summaries:

MINUTEMAN WON MATRON STAKES

The Big $10,000 Event Proved to Be Easy Picking for Madden's Clever Runner.

BELMONT TO QUIT TURF

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—J. E. Madden's The Minuteman easily won the $10,000 fifth Matron stakes for colts and geldings at Morris park today. He and his stable companion, Panique, were favorites in the betting, closing 6 to 5. W. C. Whitney's Hippocrates, second choice, was second. Six good 2-year-olds faced the starter for this event. The Minuteman went out to make the pace, and as the field came in sight at the head of the Eclipse course, he was leading by a length. He gradually increased his lead to the finish and won by four lengths.

Armenia won the fifty-end of the matron stakes by a head from For Luck. Lady Amelia, the favorite, cut out the running to the dip, where she stopped.

The thirty-eighth Jerome stakes, for 3-year-olds, was practically a failure, only two horses responding to the bugle call. The pair ran like a team to well in the stretch where Eugenia Burch drew away from Grey Friar and won driving by half a length.

Trinity Bell from the Drake stable and backed down from 15 to 1 to 7 to 1, won the last race by two lengths.

August Belmont today announced that he intended to sell all horses now racing in his colors and also the yearlings. The sale will be held one week from next Thursday. Summaries:

ENTHUSIASM IN SOUSA'S RETURN

MARCH KING LED CHORUS

Typical American Music Catches the Popular Fancy in Europe, Says Mr. Sousa—Ethelbert Nevin and Stephen C. Foster Are Admired.

Patriotism was the keynote of yesterday's musical treat at the Pittsburgh exposition, when an immense audience gathered to pay homage to Sousa and his band, and to hear the sweet voices of 500 school girls sing the composer's stirring march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever." A prettier scene never was witnessed in the great music hall. At the afternoon performance the school children filled the tiers of seats in the rear of the band platform and followed the "March King's" magic baton with enthusiastic precision, and as they joined in the chorus they waved small flags, giving the stage the appearance of a magnificent boquet.

The girls, dressed in white, represented every public school in the city and were in charge of Superintendent Samuel Andrews and Profs. E. E. Rinehart and G. L. Smink, musical supervisors of the city schools. First the band struck up the familiar tune and then the singers took up the air. Their voices were weak at first and scarcely filled the hall. Some were embarrassed because they knew that their leader was the head of a world famous band, had written operas and had played before imperial audiences far across the sea. But they soon learned something of the gentleness of the man who directed the concert and were inspired by his magnetism.

Soon their voices filled the most remote corners of the auditorium and drowned the taunting echoes. A signal from Mr. Sousa and 500 flags burst as if by magic from the bank of white. The band struck up its most majestic measure and with intense volume arose the song.

The audience caught the patriotic spirit and many rose to their feet when the girls flaunted their flags. Tremendous applause followed. Mr. Sousa returned to the platform and the song was repeated amid a demonstration which was shared alike by the players, the chorus and the audience.

The evening program was distinguished by the debut of Miss Anna Otten in a violin solo, and the reappearance of Miss Estelle Liebling in two solos which won new laurels for her sweet voice and charming manner. In his lounging room in the rear of the stage Mr. Sousa was busy between his concerts in entertaining Pittsburgh friends.

"Anything typically American receives the hearty approval of the European music lover," said Mr. Sousa. "They like our marches and catch the 'get up' spirit which is shown by the band. The melodies of Stephen C. Foster and Ethelbert Nevin are not new to audiences across the sea and it is gratifying for the Yankee to watch the sympathetic interest which is displayed when a distinctive American airs is played by an American band."

The program for this afternoon's concerts follows:

PERSONALS

Albert Meyers of Johnstown spent yesterday in Pittsburgh purchasing oil for the Cambria Steel works. He said: "There are so many grades of oil at the present time that a person must be an expert to detect any difference between some of the grades. At one time in my day there were only two grades, one for light and the other for fuel. Then the refineries brought about lubricating oils, and now a large quantity is being used for medicinal purposes."

Wedding to Be Leading Event In Society Circles of Sharon

Miss Maude Abel.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—One of the leading events in local society circles will be the marriage of Miss Maude Abel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Abel of South Water street, to Alfred May. The marriage will be solemnized at the home of the bride on Thursday, October 8.

Miss Abel, is popular socially and has a host of admiring friends in this city and in New Castle, her former home. Mr. May holds a responsible position in the shipping department of the American Tinplate Company in this city. He is also secretary of the Sharon fire department. On Saturday night a number of the friends of the young couple gave them a tin shower at the home of Miss Abel.

SOCIETY.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM IRWIN MUSTIN and their family returned to Pittsburgh yesterday morning after spending the last three months in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Mustin and their children sailed from New York for Europe on June 15 and made London their first stopping place. They were there a couple of weeks, stopping over for the Henley regatta and for the reception in honor of President Loubet, which was given early in July. Independence day was also spent in London, Mr. Mustin being one of the guests at the banquet given for Americans in the city at that time. Mrs. Mustin and her eldest daughter, Miss Eleanor Mustin, occupied seats in the ladies' gallery, and from this vantage point heard the speakers, among whom was Senator Chauncey Depew.

Munich was reached in time for the grand opera, and a number of other Pittsburghers were there at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. Mustin remained in Carlsbad several weeks, while the children, in charge of a courier, made a tour of Holland, all meeting again in Brussels.

All of the family came to Pittsburgh Sunday night with the exception of Burton H. Mustin, who is expected on Thursday, having stopped for a few days in New York to visit some college chums.

Wedding Rehearsal and Dinner.

The wedding rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Nellie Bigley and George R. Mathieu took place last evening and was followed by a dinner at the Hotel Schenley. Miss Bigley presented her attendants with gold enamel sets, while scarf pins were given to each of the ushers and groomsmen by Mr. Mathieu. Covers were placed for the bridal party, including the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bigley, the father of the bridegroom, G. A. Mathieu, and a brother of the bride from Juniata, the Rev. G. Kimm Bigley, who is to perform the ceremony, the matron of honor, Miss E. A. Richter; Miss Dorn Sneathen, Miss Minnie Zinsmeister, Miss Blanche Mentzar of Louisville, who is being entertained by Mrs. George A. Kimm of Howe street; Miss Pauline Weinberg of St. Louis, the house guest of the bride; A. H. King, E. A. Richter, H. A. Bigley and Edward Mentzar, J. F. Munchen and Frank Brennen of Philadelphia, guests of Mr. Mathieu; Gregor Kerr and A. S. Bigley. An immense center piece of maiden hair ferns was the only decoration.

The wedding will be a large and brilliant affair in SS. Peter and Paul's Roman Catholic church tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock. Miss Bigley will wear a handsome gown of white with full court train, and trimmed with duchesse lace medallions and rosalie. Her mother's veil, first worn 90 years ago, will be caught with a cluster of orange blossoms. A diamond pendant will be the only ornament, Mr. Mathieu's wedding gift. Mrs. Richter will wear pink crepe de chene and carry a shower of maiden hair fern. The maids will appear in French batiste with lace hats trimmed in pink roses. They will carry pink roses and lilies of the valley in their effort. The little flower girl, Miss Estelle McSwigen, will wear pink and white, and carry a basket of pink roses.

The church decorations will be in white asters with a mass of greens. Pink asters will be used at the dinner following, at the Hotel Schenley, while a wreath of white roses will surround the wedding cake on the bride's table.

A Quiet Home Wedding.

About 75 invitations have been issued, the guest list including only the members of the two families and intimate friends. The ushers, August and John Daub, cousins of the bridegroom, and G. Woodside and Thomas M. Woodside will be the only attendants the bridal pair will have.

White crepe de chene will form the bridal gown, and roses will be carried. A reception and supper will follow the ceremony, after which the newly wedded couple will leave for a trip. After their return Mr. Daub and his bride will receive their friends in Lang avenue. The decorations for the wedding will be very simple, consisting of roses, palms and ferns, the color scheme being green and white.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE Monday Night club opened its season last evening with a very enjoyable meeting, at the home of its treasurer, Mrs. Edwin K. Morse, in North Craig street, Bellefield. The Monday club is composed of both men and women and the programs for its meetings are literary and musical in character. Last night's gathering was a reunion of the members of the club who have been scattered for the summer. Aside from the pleasant social features which chiefly prevailed, an enjoyable musical program was given, consisting of piano solos and duets by Mrs. John S. Woods, Jr., Mrs. R. E. Edmonds and the Misses Ewing, pianists. Mr. Schmidt of Uniontown was the reader.

The program was followed by an amusing and interesting musical game. "The Courtship of Mr. Dooley." Snatches from various airs were played by Mr. John McFeely, these airs when guessed presenting a pretty little story of "The Courtship of Mr. Dooley."

The Monday club this season has decided to devote itself to the study of North and South America, to current literature and current events. The next meeting will have for its subject North America, and "The Aborigines of North America," will be the title of a paper which Mrs. Morse will present. A debate on the question that the granting of suffrage to the negro was a mistake, will be taken up by F. W. McKee for the affirmative, and Dr. G. B. Sweeney for the negative. Miss S. L. Cochran will discuss the current events of the month.

The officers of the Monday club include S. Woodward Cunningham, president; John F. Sweeny and Samuel W. Hay, vice presidents; Mrs. S. S. Fishburn, secretary and Mrs. Edwin K. Morse, treasurer.

Traveling Ceramic Exhibit Here.

The traveling exhibit of the International League of Mineral Painters has reached Pittsburgh and will be opened for inspection today and continue throughout the week, under the auspices of the Duquesne Ceramic club of this city, one of the score or more clubs composing the International League of Mineral Painters which was organized a few years ago. This traveling exhibit contains some of the best work done by members of the individual clubs and was opened last May in New York, continuing there a couple of weeks before being taken to Maine. It is now on its way west to San Francisco. In this collection are to be seen several examples of the work of Pittsburgh artists, among them Miss Rae Mole, Miss Laura Overly and others, several of the pieces being those which secured prizes in the annual exhibition of the Duquesne Ceramic club last fall.

President's Day.

The Woman's club of Homestead observed president's day yesterday afternoon, it being the first meeting of the club this season. Mrs. J. S. Neel, the president, presided over the day, the club meeting at her home in East Tenth avenue. The formal program was short, consisting chiefly of the president's address and music. A delegate was elected to represent the club in Carlisle at the meeting of the state federation.

The Woman's club of Homestead has prepared an interesting program for the year. It outlines a study of several of Shakespeare's plays, including "As You Like It," "King Lear," "Othello," "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Much Ado About Nothing" and the "Tempest." Topics of current interest will be taken up for discussion from week to week.

Opening of the Art School.

The Art Students' league opened the Thomas Shields Clarke studio, Craft avenue and Emily street, yesterday, for the fall classes. Henry Keller of Cleveland has been secured to criticise the work and he will be here on Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings. Saturday evenings he will work with an evening class of men which will be started this year. Miss Whitehead will have charge of the children's classes on Saturday afternoons.

Union Club Meeting.

The union meeting of the suburban clubs of the Monongahela valley will be held in Edgewood Saturday, October 17. Special arrangements are being made that the meeting may be of much interest to the club women in the various suburban towns, including Homestead, Braddock, Wilkinsburg, Edgewood, McKeesport and Turtle Creek.

Autumn Reception.

One of the pretty events of the past week was the reception given by Mrs. Eugene F. Elliot in honor of her two daughters, Miss Mary Carolyn and Mrs. E. Anderson Elliot, at the summer place, the "Fetterman Mansion." In the afternoon about 150 of the older people were the guests of Mrs. Elliot, while the evening was given up to the younger people, about 50 in number. The affair was informal, games and dancing being the principal features of the evening, the house was artistically decorated for the occasion, oriental cozy corners lighted by Japanese lanterns having been arranged throughout the house.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins will celebrate their golden wedding at the old Taggart homestead in Twin Rivers avenue, Highland, today.

Miss Kathryn Linn will entertain a party of 50 young people at her home in Nevin avenue, Swissvilley, on Friday evening of this week.

Mrs. John Fremont Moyer of Oakmont has issued cards for a fancy work party on the afternoon of October 8.

Cards have been issued for a "Harvest Home festival," to take place this evening in Trinity Lutheran church, Allegheny. The affair has been planned in order that the members of the church may become better acquainted.

The Oakmont Nursing and Visiting Mission will meet today in the parish house of St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal church. An all-day sewing will be held, to which all the members of the mission and their friends are invited. Lunch will be served by the mission officers.

A euchre will be given this evening by the members of the Altar society of the New Brighton Roman Catholic congregation. Mrs. William F. McCook is president of the society, and Mrs. George Hodge treasurer. The euchre will take place in the Maxwelton homestead near the McCook home, and the proceeds will be used to furnish the home of the pastor, the Rev. Father McConnell.

THE WATER IS NOT AGREEABLE

George W. Phillips Leaps from Ocean Pier in Order to Drown His Sorrow, but is Rescued, Himself Participating in the Denoument.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.

George W. Phillips, local manager for the Postal Telegraph Company, this morning attempted to commit suicide by leaping from Young's Ocean Pier. Almost exhausted he was pulled out by pier officers, to whom he stated that he wanted to die.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the cry of "man overboard" aroused the workmen on the pier and Harry Riley, one of the special officers on the pier, who was directing work on his submarine elevator, hurried to the rail with a rope. He discovered Phillips struggling in the current and threw the rope toward him. The now almost exhausted man grasped the end of the line and managed to tie it around his body. Riley, assisted by Harry Ingersoll and Frederick Crobs, pulled Phillips to the deck of the pier.

Phillips left a note on the pier for his wife in which he had explained his reason for the deed. Prior to his suicidal leap, Phillips had emptied a half pint bottle filled with whisky. No cause can be assigned for the rash act, but it is believed that the hard work of the summer season has affected his nervous system.

Passengers to Land at Inlet.

From reliable source comes the rumor that the Pennsylvania railroad proposes to land all excursionists next year at the Inlet instead of far down town, as has been the custom for years past. The lease of the present tenant of the Inlet pavilion, which is owned by the railroad company, runs out this season and he does not intend to renew it. The reason given for the change is that the majority of excursionists like to take a sail or go fishing and to do this hitherto they have been obliged to go far uptown.

WILL BE HARD TO CATCH.

Detective Aymer Thinks Robbers of Wabash Men Have Escaped for Good.

Detective Charles Aymer, who was detailed to Washington, Pa., to make an investigation into the killing of Contractor Ferguson on Friday, returned to this city yesterday. Detective Aymer is of the opinion there were three men implicated in the plot. He is doubtful if the dynamiter will ever be captured.

"The man who killed Ferguson were acquainted about the camp. Now, it would be hard to determine whom to suspect. About three weeks ago there were 50 men discharged from the camp by Ferguson. They have now scattered all over the country. It is well known that Contractor Ferguson paid his men on the 25th of every month. He never changed the day for paying, which was a mistake.

"Some of the men discharged in the earlier part of September had been employed by him for several months. They knew his route to the camp and the day he would bring the money. It is possible these men may have slipped in the camp on the night before the explosion and planted the explosives in the roadway. I understand the contractors will employ detectives to run down the dynamiters. They may be successful, but at present they have no clew."

NO CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

Trustees of the Western Thelogial Seminary Still Fail to Make a Decision.

The possibility of an early election of a president for the Western Theological seminary in Allegheny is remote. A committee of the trustees at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Second Presbyterian church failed to take any action and adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. Dr. J. D. Moffatt. No candidates were named before the Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick, president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and the Rev. J. F. Gibson of Pittsburgh.

Members of the committee stated after the meeting that no probable time for the next caucus could be named and that all were in the dark regarding its future action. Those who attended the meeting were: Dr. Moffatt, W. B. Harbison and the Rev. Drs. W. L. McEwan, H. D. Lindsay, James H. Snowden, J. C. Barnes, W. S. Fuller, D. S. Kennedy and Dr. Maitland Alexander.

EARLY CLOSING MOVEMENT.

Rosenbaum Company Will Close Every Saturday Night at 6:30 P. M. After Oct 10, 1903. The Movement Has Been in Contemplation for Several Years.

As Rosenbaum Company indicated in all their advertisements in Sunday's papers, September 27, they will participate in the early closing movement, and close their stores after Saturday night, October 10, at 6:30 p. m.

As the tendency is for shorter hours, this movement is in obedience thereto and would have been carried out years ago if Rosenbaum Company had been encouraged by others to join them. There is no doubt that this early closing will be hailed with delight by all employes, and they cannot be blamed. The shopping public of Pittsburgh and surrounding towns must accommodate itself to the early closing conditions. They can easily do so after they once get into the habit of doing their shopping Saturday afternoons. It is sincerely hoped that all will encourage and sustain the shorter day.

The morning hours are not made use of enough. They have always been the most pleasant to shop in, while the rush hours of the afternoons are certain that Rosenbaum Company will have on Saturday evening, October 3rd and 10th, the most remarkable special sales to celebrate the early closing. These sales are in preparation now, and such an outpouring of eager customers will only be equaled by the delight of the employes to call Saturday nights their own.

ALL WANT NATURAL GAS.

Scores of coal-burning householders are applying every day to the Philadelphia Company for natural gas. The company's offer to make free service line connections and set meter free of charge will be withdrawn Oct. 15. Everybody knows gas is the ideal fuel. No dust, ashes, smoke or labor, and it's cheaper than coal. Ask at 435 Sixth avenue, or any Philadelphia Company office.

Patients Treated by Great Austrian Surgeon Have Their Legs Amputated.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Disappointment is expressed by medical men in this city and others more vitally interested at the unsatisfactory results of the operations performed by Dr. Lorenz, the Vienna specialist, for congenital hip disease. Very recently the plaster casts have been removed from the legs and hips of some of the little ones and the conditions revealed were such as to cause the gravest apprehension.

For example, out of eight cases at the hospital for Ruptured and Crippled, gangrenous conditions were found in four cases. In two of the cases the little patients had the leg amputated. One died after the operation. In the third case the advisability of amputating is being considered. The conditions necessitating the operation are present. In the fourth case the Lorenz operation was not a success and amputation is likely.

When these facts were called to the attention of Dr. Homer Gibney, he admitted with evident reluctance that they were true, as stated, but said that many more operations had been performed at the hospital, "25 or 50," he said. He did not remember how many operations Dr. Lorenz had performed there, nor what percentage of the cases treated at the hospital had been successful.

"It all depends on what you laymen call a succesful operation," he continued. "If a child can waddle about on its own feet after the cast has been removed, it is called successful."

Dr. Gibney admitted that in case where the leg had to be amputated, a layman had some basis for speaking of them as unsuccessful. He said also that he did not consider the failure of the cases at the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled indicated that the Lorenz operation was not worthy of the praise it had received.

To Prevent Elevator Accidents.

To prevent, as far as possible, future elevator accidents in this city, Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety and Supt. S. A. Dies of the bureau of building inspection have issued instructions to owners of elevators and other appliances of similar kinds, to comply with the law regulating those devices.

To All Catarrh Sufferers

Hyomei Guaranteed to Cure by Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown Aves., or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized the Schilling Bros. Company to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by the Schilling Bros. Company.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and your catarrh is cured. That's all.

If not cured the Schilling Bros. Company will refund your money.

STOCKS EXTREMELY WEAK, CLOSING NEAR THE LOWEST

Thirty Leading Issues Declined to New Low Records for the Year—Steel and Pennsylvania the Weakest of Their Respective Groups.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The stock markets were active and extremely weak yesterday, organized support was entirely lacking, and the close was near the lowest of the day. Thirty leading securities in Wall street either sold down to new low records for the year, or to the lowest quoted during the weakest days of July and August. These stocks with their low prices for the day were as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Amer. Locomotive | 14½ | Ont. & Western | 19 |
| Balt. & Ohio | 71¾ | Penna. R. R. | 115¼ |
| B. R. Transit | 23½ | People's Gas | 87¾ |
| Chicago & Alton | 18½ | Pr. Steel Car | 29¾ |
| Do pr. preferred | 60 | Pr. Steel Co. pfd. | 73 |
| Ches. & Ohio | 27¼ | Reality & Cons. | 5¾ |
| Colorado Fuel | 40 | Rock Isl. pfd. | 50¾ |
| Del. & Hudson | 149 | So. Pacific | 36¾ |
| Gen. Electric | 132 | Sugar | 103¾ |
| Kans. & Tex. pfd. | 35¾ | Tenn. Coal & I. | 53¾ |
| Nat. Lead pfd. | 80 | U. S. Steel | 15 |
| Manhattan | 126½ | Do preferred | 70¾ |
| Met. St. Ry. | 100 | Do new 5s | 68 |
| Mexican Cent. | 13¾ | Wabash pfd. | 23¾ |
| Nort. & Western | 58¾ | Western Union | 80¾ |
| North American | 15¾ | | |

To the foregoing list might be added a number of minor specialties, like American Can preferred, and in the local market stocks like Crucible Steel and Westinghouse Electric.

Before the opening London quotations showed that that market was depressed, consols selling to a new low price at 88, and American securities being down large fractions as compared with Saturday's close. Initial transactions on this side were in large blocks and at declines ranging from ½ to 1 per cent. The weakest stocks during the morning session were the industrials. All the United States Steel issues recorded new low prices. The common broke to 15, the preferred to 59¾ and the new 5 per cent bonds to 68. For a brief period the dealings in these issues dominated the market, but here and there special weak spots appeared. Amalgamated Copper broke to 40¼, and Sugar to 103¾, the latter the lowest of the year. General Electric opened at 143¾ and broke to 130½, the lowest of the year. Peoples Gas made a new low record at 87¾, and all the minor iron and steel shares declined. Pressed Steel Car being the greatest sufferer, breaking from 33½ to 29¾. Missouri Pacific and Atchison were the weakest of the railroads during the morning session. All the transactions declined to new low levels. Brooklyn Rapid Transit to 23½, Manhattan to 126¼, and Metropolitan to par. The volume of transactions during the first two hours was quite large, exceeding 500,000 shares.

During the middle part of the day the pressure of liquidation was less severe, and some slight rallies occurred, based upon shorts covering, but there was no attempt to support the market, and the feeling was one of distinct nervousness.

The most disturbing incident of the afternoon was the weakness in Pennsylvania. This stock had opened at 118¾, immediately rallied to 119, and during the first hour sellers did not manufacture more than 1 per cent from those figures. In the latter part of the session, however, there was active liquidation and some bearish manipulation in this stock, which finally broke to 115¾, the lowest price since 1898 when the stock was paying only 5 per cent dividends. Baltimore & Ohio broke to 71¾, Reading to 42¾, Norfolk & Western to 55¼, and Delaware & Hudson to 149. The movement soon extended to the remainder of the railway list, and during this time the industrials were comparatively neglected. Louisville & Nashville broke to 95, St. Paul to 134½, Illinois Central to 126¼, Union Pacific to 87½, Rock Island preferred to 55¾, and so on through the list. The Eries and New York Central held comparatively steady. In the final dealings there were slight recoveries from the extreme low point in the industrial list. United States Steel bonds rallied to 69½ and the preferred stock to 60. The close was active and unsettled. The total sales reached 900,000 shares.

There were two theories to account for the selling of Pennsylvania and stocks of that class. One was that it was in sympathy with the decline in the industrials, the argument being that if manufacturing business became dull, railroads which traverse the industrial district would suffer from reduced traffic. The other was that the selling emanated from Philadelphia and was due to local conditions. Those who held this view also contended that the selling of this stock today was not based upon trade conditions, but upon the necessities of individuals, some of whom contemplated withdrawal from the Steel syndicate. One house was credited with sales of $2,000,000 Steel bonds, and it was thought that at least a portion, if not all of this selling was for account of capitalists who expected to receive the bonds on October 1 when they withdrew from syndicate membership, and until which time they would be technically short of the market.

It was regarded as significant of the stronger position of Wall street that there were no failures among brokers. Prices yesterday touched the lowest average of the year; in some instances they were much below the lowest of July and August when several stock exchange houses were compelled to assign. There was no such fear which such a market arouses that some members might be unable to withstand the strain, but the fear proved to be groundless.

The Pittsburgh stock market was a miniature reproduction of that in the east. There was some hesitation at the opening, due to the report that organized support would be forthcoming, and traders with peremptory selling orders hesitated to force the market. It soon appeared, however, that the only genuine support was in Manufacturers Light & Heat. That stock opened at 30, advanced a fraction, and for the remainder of the day held steady at 30 bid, closing unchanged. Ohio Fuel Supply sold in a small way at 33¼, but there was a very limited market for the stock.

One of the strongest stocks was River Coal common, which after selling down to 9¾, recovered to 10, and late in the session was bid up to 10¼. The movement seemed to be less an effort to support the stock than to accumulate it, but as soon as it appeared that there were buying orders for it offerings were withdrawn. Pittsburgh Coal declined from 25¾ to 23¾, but recovered to 24½. The preferred sold at 70¼ to 69 and recovered to 70. Westinghouse Airbrake was the only other stock that closed at an advance, a small lot selling at 113. Crucible Steel was one of the weakest stocks. The common sold down to 6¾, and the preferred made a new low record by selling at 55, but recovered to 55¾ at the close. United States Steel sold down to 14¾ here, a fraction below the lowest in the east, and the preferred declined to 58¾. Philadelphia Company declined to 37 and closed offered at 36¾. Fire Proofing common was a little firmer at 14¾, while the preferred sold off to 27½. There was very little change in the bank and trust company group.

$50,000 PROFIT ON PENN AVENUE LOT

Nos. 624-626 Sold to Dr. R. H. M. MacKenzie for $225,000.

WYLIE AVENUE SALE OF $25,000

Six Belmar Place Houses Bring $23,350. Eastern Money Relieves Mortgage Situation—Water Companies Blamed for High Charges.

The sale of the property at Nos. 624-626 Penn avenue for $225,000 which netted the owner a profit of $50,000, is likely to have a most beneficial effect on values, taken with another recently submitted for another downtown property. The Penn avenue sale was made Saturday through the office of the Real Estate Trust Co., which conveyed the property from Samuel Hamilton Love to R. H. M. MacKenzie. It consists of a lot 40x115 feet at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Barkers' alley, adjoining the James D. Verner holdings. Two large modern brick buildings, occupied as stores, are on the lot. Formerly the property was in two parts, known as the Sarah O'Bryan and the Elizabeth H. Long lots. Mr. Hamilton bought these from Attorney Willis F. McCook last year for $175,000 so that the sale nets him $50,000. At the price paid the property figures at $5,625 a front foot, or $50 22 a square foot.

The other example of rising values is the offer submitted for the Sixth avenue hotel at the corner of Sixth avenue and Grant street. The property was bought about eight months ago by Thomas J. Keenan for $115,000. It is known that the present offer was at $150,000 and than the property sold for last spring and was refused, showing that Mr. Keenan has faith in the future of the Hump district.

Profit of $4,000 in Wylie Avenue.

Another deal that netted the owner a profit of $4,000 on a few weeks' investment is the sale of the property at No. 708 Wylie avenue for $24,000 through H. M. Berman of the Merchants Savings & Trust Co. This is one of three adjoining lots which C. B. Goordin of the firm of E. Saul & Co. bought some time ago from W. B. Knolle. It was figured in that deal at $20,000. The lot measures 20x91 feet on the south side of Wylie avenue near Tunnel street and is improved with two three-story brick buildings. The property is under a 15 months' lease of $1,080 a year, which is considered a low rental in view of the location and character of the buildings.

An offer of $1,200 a front foot has been submitted through the same company for a property to Webster avenue between Tunnel street and Sixth avenue. Properties in this part of the city, which have changed owners, are in good demand this month judging from the inquiries received the last 10 days.

Six more houses in Belmar place have been disposed of for $23,350, or nearly $4,000 each. They belonged to the Park Land Company, and were bought by a local investor as an investment. The houses are eight-room two-family and dwelling and store. One store and one 40x36 rest in Hermitage street and the other of 20x36 feet in Monticello street.

Eastern Money Seeking Pittsburgh.

A striking example of the increasing activity in mortgage business came to light yesterday. A downtown operator by hard work placed only nine small mortgages between July 1 and 15, but in the week from September 18 to September 25 he placed 21 mortgages aggregating $85,000, all of them being residence properties in the East End. All the mortgages were placed at six per cent, which is still the prevailing rate for loans. The feature of the business was that $50,000 of this money was from Eastern capital, which was brought to this city last week from New York, where it had been invested at four per cent.

During the last two months some attorneys who have snug sums of private money at their disposal have attempted to hold up the borrowers in a way that is causing much unfavorable comment among real estate dealers. Last week a loan of $16,000 was accepted, but when the attorney was to be paid he asked five per cent in addition to the borrower paying the broker the regular two per cent. Instances of exorbitant charges by attorneys for examining titles and handling loans have been so frequent of late that many investors who had formerly done their business through them have turned it over to brokers or trust companies.

Water Companies Are Unreasonable.

Suburban operators who are building large bunches of houses are reporting some difficulty in getting reasonable rates from the water companies. One well-known builder who has under way 40 houses in the Twenty-first ward recently applied to the Pennsylvania Water Company for meters for a half dozen of his houses, which would be ready for occupancy by October 15. Instead of getting the desired privilege he was told that if he wanted meters for a few of his houses he must buy meters for the whole 40 at once at a cost of $15 each. As some of the houses will not be completed before April 1 the operator naturally demurred from paying for a meter contract so far in advance and so far has got no meters at all. Several suburban companies have obviated the difficulty of risking a scant supply of water from the water companies for which they were asked to pay exorbitant rent by drilling a lot of artesian wells and putting in their own water system. One lot plan recently opened is still without water, although a number of houses in the new plan are occupied, the owners getting water from nearby wells.

The new St. Canice school building to be erected in Orchard place, Knoxville, promises to relieve a long-felt want in that borough. The building will be 75x100 feet, and when completed will contain eight school rooms and a large hall which will seat 600 people, something which Knoxville has needed for a long time. Architect A. F. Link prepared the plans for the building, one-third of which will be erected now and the remainder in the spring.

TEN-POINT DECLINE IN REFINED SUGAR

Straw Quotations Advance. Corn Easy at Lower Figures. Creamery Butter Unchanged.

A decline of 10 points in the list of quotations for refined sugar was put into effect yesterday by the local association of wholesale grocers, making granulated in bags, 4.65c. This action was not a surprise to those who have been watching the market carefully, for it has been commonly reported that there was some breaking away from the agreement existing among jobbers for the sustaining of prices, and those who had adhered closely to the list were restless and anxious to be free to meet competition. The cut puts local quotations down into close proximity to cost again, but this has become a normal condition, and is not surprising.

All other grocery staples remain as quoted yesterday morning. Flour is selling well, but is easy. A number of Minnesota mills are shut down on account of the strike among millers, which is making flour a little scarcer, but is reducing the demand for spot wheat so that prices are lower than they were a week ago.

There were liberal receipts of hay yesterday, but the market held firm, and no change in quotations occurred. Good hay is in excellent demand, and there is no difficulty in readily selling all of the better grades offered. Straw is scarce and the market went forward 50 cents a ton for all grades. This is the second time cut and dry straw has gone up a dollar inside of a week, and there is a firm market at the higher ranges. Corn is easier than it was last week, and prices for both ear and shelled have gone lower. Oats are steady, with no change in quotations, the situation possessing considerable strength. Millfeed is still scarce, and prices remain as last quoted.

Potatoes are stronger than they were last week, and the ground lost has been regained, quotations returning to the range occupied before the last decline. Onions are easier, with large receipts arriving, and cucumber squash are offering, and the market is steady, with demand growing. Tomatoes continue to come forward in plentiful supply, and change but little from day to day in prices. All other vegetables continue as at the close of the week.

Peaches maintain prices of last week, and, while they are not plentiful, demand is moderate, so that prices do not gain much. Cantaloupes and watermelons opened the week at the same figures which ruled on Saturday, and grapes continue firm at former figures. There were light offerings of plums and huckleberries, few reaching market so early in the week. Cranberries come forward in good supply, and the quality is desirable. Demand has not commenced to show much force, but sales are increasing.

There was no change in poultry prices yesterday. Chickens continue scarce, and quotations are high for the time of year. Demand is fair, and the limited amount of stock which reaches this market is readily handled. Turkeys, ducks and geese show every probability that the range of quotations will be higher than for several years.

Elgin creamery butter quotations remain the same as last week, and local prices also continue as before. Cheese firm at former quotations, while eggs are strong as quoted. Dealers are hoping for improvement in the egg supply inside of the next two or three weeks if the weather does not get cold enough to have commenced to lay and supplies should increase.

GENERAL DEPRESSION IN ALL THE GRAIN PRICES

Wheat, Corn and Oats Showed a Loss at Close of Yesterday's Chicago Markets.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The demand for wheat was slack and conditions at home and abroad were bearish. Northwest and southwest markets were lower and with weak cables and large world's shipments, liberal increase on passage and primary interior movement, the leading wheat came out early. December opened ⅝@⅞c lower at 76⅝@76⅞c to 77⅝c. Notwithstanding the bearish influences there was a momentary bulge immediately after the opening on buying by scattered shorts, on which December went to 77⅞c. An easier feeling engendered by the Wall street weakness, the bulging of December to 78⅛c, and the closing weak, however, poor commission houses and pit traders selling freely and stop loss orders were reached on the ensuing decline. December went back to 76⅝@76¾c, standing later on buying by elevator interests to 76⅞@77c, and finally sold at 77c at the close. Primary receipts were 1,167,200 bushels, against 1,971,000 bushels last year. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 960 cars, against 1,000 cars a week ago. Clearances, but one of contract grade, made a total for the three points of 968 cars, against 907 last week, and 1,031 cars a year ago.

Corn was dull and weak in the fourth business, the unsettled feeling in Wall street, fine weather and lower cables, December opening ⅝@⅝c lower, at 45¾@45⅞c. There was no support to the market, and the trade was also on buying by short holders on good shipping demand and improving export business. # GLAZNER TELLS HIS OWN STORY

Pleaded Guilty to Murder Then Says He Does Not Remember Killing Margaret Hall.

THOUGHT WOMAN SHOT HIM

Court Did Not Wish to Accept His Plea, but When He Refused to Withdraw It, Took Testimony to Fix Degree.

In Judge J. D. Shafer's branch of the criminal court yesterday morning Nicholas Glazner caused a sensation by pleading guilty to the charge of having murdered Margaret Hall, who was a domestic in the home of John M. Roberts, No. 412 Atwood street. An effort was made to have him change his pleading, but he persisted in it, and the taking of testimony to fix the grade of the crime was at once commenced, continued during the day and will be resumed this morning.

Glazner is a middle-aged man and has a wife. When he shot and killed the Hall woman in the yard surrounding the Roberts residence and then shot himself, as is supposed was the case, he was working as a motorman. Having no funds with which to employ an attorney, one was assigned to him by the court last week; but he refused to accept the lawyer's services, and then, yesterday, after pleading guilty to the charge of murder went on the stand and told his story, some points of which were contradicted by other witnesses.

Judge Shafer had Glazner brought up to the bar and explained to him that the court would proceed to take testimony fixing the degree of the crime. Although the prisoner had refused to accept a lawyer, the court named Attorney W. M. McFarlin and at the same time told Glazner he could ask such questions as he pleased.

Mrs. Ellen Flickenger of No. 3703 Forbes street testified that she had known Glazner for seven years. At the time the Hall woman was killed his wife was living in Kirkpatrick street. At one time they had lived with the witness in Neville street.

Dr. W. C. McCandless told of finding two bullets in the Hall woman's brain. J. M. Roberts, the jeweler, the Hall woman's employer, said Glazner had called on the dead woman for a number of years, and that his calls were generally made during the day time, as he was employed as a motorman on night cars. Roberts told of hearing the shots and seeing Glazner and the Hall woman in the yard, the woman dead and the man either unconscious or pretending to be so. He knew that they had had little fusses, the last he heard of being two or three weeks before the shooting.

When the defendant took the stand he told of his acquaintance with Margaret Hall, which began two years or more ago, and said that although married to another woman he had lived with her as her husband. After he was absent from the city in Jeannette he said he returned here to work about December 1. He said that at the time his mind was affected, and if he looked too steadily at anything it would dazzle him.

In answer to questions witness said he had seen the Hall woman about February 8. Further questioning brought out the fact that he had seen her two weeks before this.

Questioned as to what occurred at the Roberts home on the night of the shooting, he said: "I can't relate much about the shooting, as I had been drinking after work and I can't tell how it happened; I had got a pint of whisky at Flickenger's and I got beer, unknown to her."

"Do you know who shot you?"

"I don't know whether she did or not. I knew nothing about the shooting until I was in jail on Thursday."

The defense had sought to show that at the time of the shooting Margaret Hall had his revolver.

He said he thought the Hall woman had shot him, and that as nearly as he could recollect she had shot him after he had been dead about five minutes when the shot was fired, but couldn't tell where it came from. He couldn't remember who was shot first. Defendant said he could not remember leaving the yard or being carried away from there, but "supposed" they had brought him to the jail.

HARMONY IS PASSING; ECONOMY WILL REMAIN

Historic Old Society Having Sold Its Farm Lands Will Dispose of the Implements That Made It Rich.

After years of litigation, costing thousands and involving millions of dollars, that ran the gamut of all the courts, including the supreme court of the United States, the famous and historic Harmony society has at last laid down the implements that made it great and rich, and its surviving members, few and feeble, will spend their declining days in luxury and ease, while others plow the fields, harvest the grains or erect homesteads on the thousands of acres that were once the finest farm lands in Western Pennsylvania.

Notices have been posted all about Economy, the home of the Harmony society since its removal from the west, in the early part of the last century, to the effect that on Thursday, October 1, all the personal property that is not needed for the immediate use of the members, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidders. This includes all the old and time-honored farming implements, many pieces made by hand and very valuable, much modern machinery, hundreds of fine Jersey cows, old wine casks that age has only made the better and which cannot be duplicated now; the standing corn; the fruits in the orchards and everything that was once necessary to a farming community, but which Trustee John S. Duss now explains are of no use to the society, because it has sold its 3,000 acres to the Liberty Land Company and has retained but three blocks for the society, and some property in Beaver Falls. The members will farm no more; neither will they milk their fine cows or store up their wines, the fame of which has spread throughout the world.

Within the three reserved blocks, however, are the great house and its gardens; the church and burying grounds; the old cellars containing still the aged wine which will last as long as the survivors of the vineyards; the old music hall, with its peculiar belfry; the store and the large barn for cattle and horses; all these are still retained that memory may linger with the aged Germans that consecrated their lives to them; that they may still eat and drink in their simple fashion, and sit around and wonder at the strangeness of time's changes. Yes, old Harmony is passing, but Economy will always linger as long as the three blocks remain with their peculiar buildings to remind visitors of what was once one of the most interesting spots in America.

For years the Harmony society has leased its vast possessions or employed farmers to do its work. Since the land was disposed of nothing remained but to sell the tools and cattle. Enough has been retained and the society is wealthy enough to care for its members during their lives. Mr. Duss will look after their simple needs as long as he or they live. These tools are valuable, but what they will bring no person connected with the society will hazzard a guess.

COURT HAD ITS OWN DETECTIVES AT WORK

Sensational Testimony Given at Hearing to Revoke Coll & Rosenthal's Liquor License.

Judge J. A. Evans yesterday resumed the hearings in the matter of revoking certain liquor licenses. The Coll & Rosenthal case, McKees Rocks, wholesalers, who are charged withselling from their wagons in Schoenville, was taken up first. The case was continued from Saturday and a mild sensation was sprung when Attorney M. H. Stevenson, for the Anti-Saloon league, finished his side and Judge Evans called upon Jerry Lutz, a local detective, to give testimony.

Lutz investigated at Schoenville in the early part of July at the instigation of Judge Evans. He testified that he had seen the wagons of Coll & Rosenthal doing a big business on the streets of Schoenville and he pointed out Lewis Harris, a driver of the firm, as a man he had seen going among the foreigners evidently booking orders which he supplied several hours shortly afterward. The witness also said that he had given a man a dollar to purchase a case of beer from one of the wagons and the man returned with the beer. He also said that he had seen Harris collect on Sunday.

Melville Stark testified he had purchased a quart of whisky from Harris, who was on the wagon, and the whisky was in evidence in court. It bore the firm's label.

Rosenthal testified that the firm, he thought, conducted its business properly. He said either he or his partner personally superintended the business at all times, and that no goods left the store unless marked to be delivered on an order that had been left at the store.

He picked up the whisky Stark claimed to have bought from his wagon and after looking through the glass bottle, said he was satisfied it was not the goods they placed in the bottles sold by the firm.

He offered to pay the expense to submit it to a test by comparison with his whisky, but Judge Evans remarked that as the firm filled its own bottle the test wouldn't amount to much.

Rosenthal admitted that a complaint of the immoral character had been filed against him two years ago in license court, but he added that it had come from rival dealers.

To Judge Evans he said about 25 per cent of the orders had been placed in the store.

"Then you take orders and collect for sales at the same house?" asked the court.

"Not on the same day," was the answer.

"But you do what I asked you first?"

"Yes sir."

Two Polish drivers for the firm were called and gave their testimony through an interpreter.

Judge Evans wanted to know why they had to go up and down Orchard street. Schoenville, four or five times to deliver a load of goods, and the witnesses were not clear in their answers. They said they sometimes missed the houses and had to go back. One of them admitted he had received beer from the First National Brewery's wagon in Schoenville, but both denied selling any liquor from the wagons.

It was expected that the other cases continued from Saturday would be taken up, but they were all held over until Saturday one week.

Holdups Near Willock.

The Homestead police were notified yesterday that four foreigners had been held up, robbed and beaten by negroes near Willock station late Sunday night. The foreigners were employed at the coal mines in Willock and were returning to their homes when they were met by negroes, who demanded their money, and, failing to get it, beat the miners with clubs, rifled their pockets and fled. Several hold-ups and robberies are reported to have taken place in the vicinity of Willock recently.

Want Borough Facilities.

Residents of Walls and that section of North Versailles township known as the Third precinct have appointed a committee to present a petition to the local courts asking that the territory located within the east line of Wilmerding and the Westmoreland boundary line be incorporated as a borough. It is stated that the district has a population of almost 3,000. The petition will be presented in court early next month. Six years ago the residents of the district asked to be incorporated as a borough, but owing to the alleged opposition of the Pennsylvania railroad were refused.

EXPLAINED WHY THEY FILED THE EXCEPTIONS

Board of Viewers Heard Objectors in Virgin Alley Widening Case.

The board of viewers on the Virgin alley widening met again yesterday afternoon and heard the arguments of counsel for those who filed exceptions to the board's award. W. R. Blair, for the trustees of Trinity church, contended that the board had been unfair in its award, because it had accepted his witness' testimony as to damages, but not as to benefits. The latter, he said, they had increased 75 per cent.

Mr. Blair said the law is inconsistent in requiring the damages to be fixed by testimony and at the same time fixing benefits at three times what the testimony proves. In his case, he said, nearly the whole of the benefits would be used in replacing the damaged building. He objected to the iron-clad front foot rule adopted by the board.

In general, Mr. Blair said, the city should stand the larger share of the whole improvement, as the street is meant for the public, not for the property holder.

C. S. Mitchell, for J. G. Lauer of Liberty avenue, contended that he is entitled to twice the sum named in the award, as his leasehold was worth, first, the sum estimated by the board and the tenant would probably be compelled to move to another location.

D. P. Reighard filed an estimate showing alterations in his property would cost $10,467. W. H. Hornbostel testified to testimony that his property would not be materially benefited.

MILITIA AT CARNIVAL.

National Guardsmen Will Hold Forth at the Arsenal Today.

Despite the cold weather there was a good-sized crowd at the G. A. R. carnival last night. The old plantation melodies, as rendered by the troupe of Alabama negroes in "Down in Dixie," were appreciated, and the crowds enjoyed the rendition of Stephen C. Foster's lovely songs. Tomorrow night the members of the two local regiments of the national guard will be the guests of post No. 91, Grand Army of the Republic, at the carnival. Every guardsman in uniform will be admitted free.

Mrs. Lovejoy Had Narrow Escape.

While driving to the city from her home in Braddock road, yesterday, Mrs. F. T. F. Lovejoy's carriage was struck by a traction car at Fifth avenue and Neville street, and wrecked. Mrs. Lovejoy was badly shaken up, but escaped injury by the driver sticking to his seat and preventing a runaway.

SECOND BRIGHAM YOUNG PREACHER CALLS DOWIE

Baptist Minister Says He Is a Hypnotist and Derides His Pretensions.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—At the first meeting of the Long Island Baptist association since the summer vacation, which was held this morning, the Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson, pastor of the Henson Place Baptist church, spoke on "Dowieism."

"Dowie enjoys all the sumptuousness of a multi-millionaire," Dr. Henson said. "He has need only of men who can give the right kind of an answer to the question, 'How much money can you raise?' He bosses his Zionist people as if they were a lot of trained pups. He is the most consummate hypnotist of our time.

"He is not a reincarnation of Elijah, but a reincarnation of Brigham Young. Elijah of old did not run a bank, keep a hotel and do a real estate business, but Elijah the Second does. His devotion to the almighty dollar is his form of worship."

The Rev. Mr. Faussett of Wisconsin said he believed Dowie to be the most dangerous man since the days of Alexander the coppersmith. He cited an instance of a Baptist preacher who had resigned his church and given all he possessed to the Dowieites. The Rev. N. J. Whitaker said he knew of a woman of noble character in Brooklyn who was ill and who was visited by one of Dowie's apostles. She gave all the money she possessed to Dowie and is as sick as ever.

Probable Murder in Braddock.

Another probable murder took place in Braddock yesterday. Two Hungarians, Andrew Matta, aged 25, and Michael Polohonich, aged 30, had been drinking, and both left a saloon together. When on the street Matta is alleged to have plunged a long dirk into Polohonich's back, between the shoulders and near the heart, penetrating the left lung. Matta was arrested. Polohonich is married and has several children.
